AN AMERICAN SUFFRAGETTE

By ISAAC N. STEVENS

Author of "The Liberators," "Popular Government Essays," etc.

In this story Mr. Stevens has attempted to portray the meaning and effect on government, politics, society, religion and medicine of the great revolution now sweeping over the world.

He characterizes it as a spiritual revolution and he shows how every element in it is interdependent on every other element.

Primarily the book is written to help the woman cause, but no more thrilling love or mystery story has appeared from the pen of an American author in the past decade.

A mysterious murder and a great court trial, with a woman attorney defending the accused, is the striking climax of the tale.

Every character is vividly portrayed, the conversation is filled with wit and wisdom and the settings are most dramatic.

The book has the unqualified endorsement of the leaders of the Woman Movement in this country and England.

Mr. Stevens is without question the foremost American champion of woman suffrage.

IN THE CURRENT

By WILLIAM BULLOCK

The heroine of this novel is a daughter of a country clergyman, who, when we meet her, is in danger of being guided by her strong-willed father into a loveless marriage. But Frizzie also has a will of her own. She is not of the weak fiber to drift with circumstances. She is not content to sit down in this remote, listless corner of creation, but wants to know what the big world is like, and away she goes to find it, turning her back on the only life she knows, on the eve of her wedding.

What comes of her simple belief that no one would harm her, that the girl alone in the Metropolis is as safe as in the shelter of her own home, she learns differently. And if, in the end, she just escapes the fire, she still knows what the fire means.

In every aspect it seems that "In the Current" is an unusual novel.

THE TWO APACHES OF PARIS

By ALICE and CLAUDE ASKEW

Authors of "The Shulamite," "The Rod of Justice."

With an introduction giving a short history of the Apaches in and about Paris.

Zelie and Bibi are the two Apaches in the story, which opens at Montmartre during the carnival ball on the night of Shrove Tuesday, where Zelie meets Owen Mayne, an English artist, who is living, for the time being, in Paris. Zelie agrees to sit as a model for an unfinished picture, for Owen must have a model, who must be a tigress, a panther, with a woman's face and form. She must have the beauty of consummate vice. She must horrify—but allure. Her hair must be a net in which all the sins of the world are caught and held. Her eyes must burn you with their passion. They must be like mirrors, in which you see reflected the most secret desires of your heart. Such was Zelie, the Apache girl, but she is primitive and soulless. She is cruel to her finger tips, without a moral sense about her. Vicious, because vice is her nature. Put power into the hands of such a one and she will ride roughshod over humanity.

How Zelie attains this power, and the consequences, can only be learned by the reading of the book.

By MARY DAWSON and EMMA PADDOCK TELFORD

Authors of "The Book of Parties and Pastimes."

THE BOOK OF PARTIES AND PASTIMES

By MARY DAWSON and EMMA PADDOCK TELFORD

Authors of "The Book of Frolics."

This book is designed to meet adequately every need of the hostess. Be it "A Dutch Treat," "A Stag Dinner," "A Baby Luncheon," "A Boston Bean Party," "A Fudge Frolic," "A Clothespin Social," or card party, dance, banquet, wedding celebration, or other entertainment for home and school.

Cloth, 12*mo*. $1.00 net.

NOTE.—Wherever a home frolic has delighted the children, old or young; or a church fair has achieved success; or a cleverly arranged dinner or supper has made a hit; or a novel dance or luncheon has been the "talk of the town," one may safely wager that the published writings of Mesdames Dawson and Telford have been drawn upon for fresh material.

PENILLION

By H. EMERY JONES

Penillion is the beautiful tribute which in loneliness and sadness has been culled and collaborated by the author's wife—a tribute as full of fragrance as the life whose memory it seeks to perpetuate was full of goodness and love and truth.

The poems are but stray jottings from the author's pen, intended for no eye but that of the writer.

We are led through his soul's doubts and fears, questionings and disquietudes, longings and hopes, and at last emerge firm in the repose of faith—the sunlight of infinite love.

In a word, in these poems is portrayed the history of the author's inner life.

It has been beautifully said of him "that he supported the heart of every man who confided in him with encouragement and affection, and filled to overflowing the cup of cold water for the little ones."

His poem, "The Pen Is Mightier Than the Sword," was set to music by B. Margaret Hoberg. Besides his many other songs and poems, Dr. Jones composed "The American Girl," dedicated to his wife; "The Thanksgiving Hymn of the Republic," dedicated by permission to the late Mrs. William McKinley: and "The Cowboy and the Dude," dedicated to Theodore Roosevelt. The "Song of Peace" and "The Thanksgiving Hymn" are enrolled as National Songs by the Congressional Library at Washington.

A STAR FOR A NIGHT

By ELSIE JANIS

With many photographs from the play.

This story is taken from the play by the same title, also written by Miss Janis, which was produced at Charles Dillingham's Globe Theatre, New York, for the benefit of charity. It was so well received by the press and public that Miss Janis was prompted in putting the story into book form.

Holiday Edition. Decorative Cloth, 12mo. $1.00 net.

THE AUTOBIOGRAPHY OF THOMAS COLLIER PLATT

Compiled and Edited by LOUIS J. LANG

With Addenda

More than any other man of his period, Senator Platt was the "power behind the throne," with a finger in every party pie, and never a trumpet blasting for himself. He has laid bare the inner workings of the State and national Republican machines, with which he was conspicuously identified for nearly fifty years. Every political battlefield in the last half century has seen his standard planted in the thickest of the fight.

Full leather, gilt top, 8*vo,* $10.00.
Cloth, gilt top, 8*vo,* $5.00.

WHEN CATTLE KINGDOM FELL

By J. R. STAFFORD

With four illustrations.

It is a modern Western story, written with all the emotional intensity and delicate feeling which this dramatic land of the West holds for the novel reader of to-day. The story overflows with love, hate, jealousy, revenge, and breathes the atmosphere where its people are fearless, reckless and unconventional. It is a love story of exceptional charm, full of moving incidents, with a hero who will surely stand high and have the sympathy of all who read this tale; and the beauty and strong love of the heroine will make her beloved by all.

Cloth, 12*mo*. $1.25 net.

THE CANVAS DOOR

A Novel

By MARY FAIRLEY SANBORN

With a frontispiece in full color by H. Richard Boehm.

First, last and throughout a love story, sweet and wholesome, sad and glad, but seldom in the first work of an author does one meet with a love story of such rare beauty. Fantastic in its conception of the reincarnation theme, it is nevertheless so exquisite in style, so subtly clever in execution, as to carry a certain conviction, while the characterization of Allegra—beautiful, whimsically feminine and altogether charming Allegra—strikes a keynote in the new season's fiction.

Cloth, 12*mo*. $1.50.

MR. JACKSON

By HELEN GREEN

Author of "At the Actors' Boarding House, "The Maison de Shine."
Illustrated by Wallace Morgan.

This new volume by the author of "At the Actors' Boarding House" introduces new characters; but her "under-world" delineation is as strong as ever. "Mr. Jackson" himself is the "Raffles" of New York confidence men—polished, educated, resourceful, daring.

In the recital of his varied adventures Mrs. Green is at her best; she knows the shady side of New York life as does no other woman writer; and in the book's shrewd analysis and quick action even the jaded reader will find some unexpected thrills.

Cloth, 12*mo*. $1.25.

SAMUEL THE SEEKER

By UPTON SINCLAIR

Author of "The Jungle," "Money Changers," etc.

Mr. Sinclair in this book has abandoned the field of muck-raking, although it embodies his theories of the relation between capital and labor.

As a novel it is a very thrilling story of a young man carried away with his enthusiasm for the laboring classes.

It is written with almost childish simplicity, as if the author, wishing to impress his truths upon even his simplest readers, had used every means to make his story and his arguments clear.

Cloth, 12mo. $1.50

THE AUTOBIOGRAPHY OF METHUSELAH

By JOHN KENDRICK BANGS

Illustrated in two colors by F. G. Cooper.

It was inevitable that the literary remains of Methuselah, the fruition of a long and active life, should sooner or later be gathered into permanent form. The choice of Mr. Bangs as editor was a peculiarly felicitous one; undoubtedly few men could handle more sympathetically the salient points of the patriarch's career and personality.

His reminiscences of his great-grandsons, Shem, Ham and Japheth, strike a familiar chord, while the old gentleman's position on such burning questions as woman suffrage, child culture and trust-baiting give food for the thought of the serious reader.

Mr. Cooper's illustrations are in full accord with the sympathy and scholarly spirit of the text.

Cloth, 12mo. $1.00 net.

WHO'S WHO ON THE STAGE

A limited number printed from type and the type distributed. Contains over 695 biographies of prominent people in the theatrical profession.

THE MYSTERY OF EVANGELINE FAIRFAX

By EARLE KUNST

This is a story of love, adventure and impenetrable mystery, impressive in its realism, with a real hero and a most lovable girl.

A story of actual life, with flesh and blood human beings.

A powerful, dramatic romance.

Cloth, 12*mo*. $1.00 net.

THE PLAYERS O' LONDON

By LOUISE BEECHER CHANCELLOR

A dainty romance of the most romantic period in history, and having as hero Shakspere himself.

Phyllis, the twin brother of a boy player in my Lord Leicester's company, takes the part of Juliet in the poet's new play; and unknown to all the rest she unwittingly wins his love—this in brief is the story, but it is as beautiful and sad-sweet a prose poem as has ever been written around the life of the great dramatist.

The make-up of the book is in keeping—printed in two colors throughout, with page decorations by John Matthews, bound in lavender, white and gold, and handsomely boxed for holiday giving.

Cloth, extra, 8vo. Illustrated. $1.75 net.

MY QUEST OF THE ARAB HORSE

By HOMER DAVENPORT

Homer Davenport, the cartoonist, is a man with two hobbies—his drawings and his Arabian horses. How he got a special iradé from the Sultan, allowing him to export from Turkey nineteen pure-blooded Arabs; how he traveled into the heart of the desert, won the friendship of the "Sheik of Sheiks," the ruler of the Bedouins, was made a blood brother to the tribe, and through this fellowship secured a score of the best horses of the Arabian stock, horses that the average foreigner might have spent thousands of dollars, in vain, to obtain—all this is told in "My Quest of the Arab Horse." The book is illustrated with some fifty pictures taken by the Davenport party and numerous cartoons from drawings by the author. It will interest every lover of horses and reader of genuine present-day adventure.

Cloth, 8vo. Illustrated. $2.00 net.

THE DELINEATOR'S PRIZE $3000 HOUSES

Every prospective house or bungalow builder will be interested in this book of The Delineator's prize houses. Several thousand dollars in prizes and much labor was spent to get together the plans and designs comprised in this book, many of the most prominent architects in the country competing. The result is a revelation to those who think utility and beauty inconsistent with moderate cost.

The book gives the complete plans, together with perspectives and plans for landscaping, and including much material not in The Delineator series. Beautifully printed, it gives in the text in each case detailed directions for building and furnishing, and careful estimates of cost. The $3,000 limit of price is a popular one; and these plans combine in a unique way the best practical thought with exclusive and thoroughly artistic designs.

Cloth, extra, 4to. $1.00 net.

THE GIRL WHO EARNS HER OWN LIVING

By ANNE STEESE RICHARDSON

Illustrated with numerous photographs.

A practical handbook for would-be workers, the summing up of numerous articles by the author, and a correspondence with thousands of girls during her associate editorship of the Woman's Home Companion.

The first half of the book discusses practically such occupations as Dressmaking, Stenography, Welfare Work, Millinery, Bookkeeping, Manicuring, Teaching, Design, Factory Work, Librarianship and Salesmanship; the second half discusses such vital general topics as the pleasures of a business girl, loyalty to one's employer, health and one's work, the dress of the business girl, office routine, etc.

The book is concise, eminently practical, crammed full of tried suggestions. It makes an ideal gift to any girl wage-earner, actual or prospective.

EUSAPIA PALLADINO: AND HER PHENOMENA

By HEREWARD CARRINGTON

Author of "The Physical Phenomena of Spiritualism," etc.

Mr. Carrington deals exhaustively with the life of this famous Neapolitan medium, a complete summary being given of all the available historic evidence, including reviews of the experiments made by Professors Lombroso, Morselli, Richet, Curie, Bottazzi, Flammarion, d'Arsonval, Sir Oliver Lodge and many other eminent savants. This is followed by a detailed account of the author's own carefully conducted test séances recently held in Naples. Two interesting chapters deal with the various theories that have been advanced by scientists to explain the phenomena, and the concluding chapter studies the facts from the biological and psychological points of view.

Cloth, extra, 8vo. Illustrated. $2.00 net.

ARE THE DEAD ALIVE?

By FREMONT RIDER

Illustrated with numerous photographs.

A careful and authoritative summing up of a half-century's progress in psychical research, written in a way that almost compels an absorbing interest.

When this book, in a condensed form, ran serially in The Delineator, the comment aroused was almost unprecedented, literally thousands of letters being received by the author.

A unique addition are the statements of personal belief on the question of the book's title, prepared especially for it by such scholars and writers as Sir Oliver Lodge, Count Tolstoi, Sir William Crookes, Professor Richet, Dr. Lombroso, Professor William James, etc.

The book is very fully illustrated with photographs, many of them never before published, illustrating every phase of psychical phenomena, and is provided with a complete index.

Cloth, extra, 8vo. $1.75 net.

By DEMETRA and KENNETH BROWN

Authors of "Sirocco," "The Duke's Price," etc.

A story of an American attaché and a Turkish maid. A wonderful story of a country little written about. It transports the reader to the heart of Constantinople. The Turkish harem and the Turkish ruler are pictured by a writer who has lived in Constantinople.

THE GUN RUNNER

By ARTHUR STRINGER

Author of "The Wire Tappers," "The Under Groove," etc.

Wireless telegraphy, thrilling adventures, a delightful love story—the book justifies its big sale.

SCARS ON THE SOUTHERN SEAS

By GEORGE BRONSON-HOWARD

Author of "Norray," "Diplomatic Agent."

A thrilling love and adventure story of an imaginary war with Japan. A genuine cast-on-island-by-a-typhoon story of adventure.

ABAFT THE FUNNEL

By RUDYARD KIPLING

A book of his never before published earlier stories, stories of the period of "Plain Tales from the Hills" and "Soldiers Three," and like them in theme and style. Some of the Anglo-Indian Tales in "Abaft the Funnel," like "Steipner, Late Thurinda," "The Likes o' Us," and "The New Dispensation," are known by hearsay to enthusiastic Kipling lovers; others of the thirty-odd stories making up the volume are quite new.

NEW POPULAR COPYRIGHTS

PATRICIA AT THE INN

By J. C. SNAITH

Author of "Araminta," "Broke of Covenden," etc.

A romance founded upon an adventure of Charles the Second when, after the battle of Worcester, he was a fugitive.

The author is one who knows how to give the material a turn out of the beaten path. He is not a mere plot concocter and marshaler of incident. He makes his people real flesh and blood, with a due admixture of fire.

THE CASTLE OF THE SHADOWS

By MRS. C. N. WILLIAMSON

Author of "The Adventure of Princess Sylvia," "The Lightning Conductor," etc.

A delightful transcontinental love comedy, which treats of a pretty American heiress who goes abroad for the purpose of collecting material for a novel. She falls in love with a young scion of French and English aristocracy who is condemned to death for murdering a beautiful young actress.

THE ADVENTURE OF PRINCESS SYLVIA

By MRS. C. N. WILLIAMSON

Author of "The Castle of the Shadows," "The Golden Silence," etc.

It is a love story of uncommon merit, one that the reader would only expect from the pen of the talented author of "The Lightning Conductor." Every page is teeming with vivid incidents that hold the reader's interest to the very last page.

SHUTTERS OF SILENCE

By G. B. BURGIN

A powerful, impressive story, and one of the most interesting novels of the season.

IMPROPER PRUE

By GLORIA MANNING

A bright and breezy story detailing the social adventures of a heroine—really improper? Well, that you'll have to read and find out—but at any rate most adorably bewitching.

THE MONEYCHANGERS

By UPTON SINCLAIR

Author of "The Jungle," "The Metropolis," etc.

"How Wall Street Manufactured the Panic of 1907." A novel describing the business and social life of New York City.

NEW POPULAR COPYRIGHTS

THE DOUBLE LIFE

By GASTON LEROUX

Author of "The Mystery of the Yellow Room," "The Phantom of the Opera," etc.

This is a mystery story of absorbing interest, as those who have read "The Mystery of the Yellow Room," by the same author, will readily conceive it would be. It is constructed with great skill and holds the attention unflaggingly.

AT THE ACTORS' BOARDING HOUSE

By HELEN GREEN

Author of "The Maison de Shine," "Mr. Jackson," etc.

The book of stories of vaudeville folk that made Helen Green famous.

THE MAISON DE SHINE

By HELEN GREEN

Author of "At the Actors' Boarding House," "Mr. Jackson," etc.

These new stories of the Mangles Three, the Property Man, the Bounding Bananas, and Maggie de Shine herself are better yet. Just try 'em—"a continuous performance of laughs."

THE CAREER OF A JOURNALIST

By WILLIAM SALISBURY

Written by a reporter with ten years' experience on many newspapers in this country and Europe. Shows up the fake news-gatherer, yellow journalism, and the influence of the counting-room on newspaper policy.

POMP AND CIRCUMSTANCE

By DOROTHEA GERARD

Author of "Queen of Curds & Cream," "The Red Seal," "Man of the Moment," etc.

The hero is an attaché of the British Foreign Office, and the heroine is a beautiful Hungarian girl who has followed her father into an enforced exile. The novel is full of action and color, and shows the author, a brilliant and popular English novelist, quite at her best.

THE CLOSED BOOK

By WILLIAM LE QUEUX

A thrilling, mystifying, clever detective story that will hold the reader's attention to the end. The mystery is unraveled with a great deal of skill and simplicity.

NEW POPULAR COPYRIGHTS

THE SUNDIAL

By FRED M. WHITE

Author of "The Crimson Blind," "A Midnight Guest," etc.

In a mysterious and startling fashion several persons meet sudden and inexplicable death in the marble basin whose waters reflect a beautiful old sundial. No apparent motives for crime are discovered and the lack of clues is peculiarly baffling.

THE JOURNAL OF A NEGLECTED WIFE

By MABEL HERBERT URNER

Quite the most remarkable psychological document in the form of fiction published in a decade. Wonderful in its simplicity; terrible in its pathos. A book that every wife and every husband will read and re-read—as perfect a fragment out of the heart of life as has been written in many a day.

FATE AND THE BUTTERFLY

By FORREST HALSEY

At last we have a novel of American society as it really is, society on the one hand neither condoned nor flattered, on the other treated as a subject neither for sermons nor for socialistic propaganda.

ARABY

By BARONESS VON HUTTON

Author of "Pam." "Pam Decides," etc.

This is a sweet, wholesome love story written in the author's best vein, most of which happens aboard ship. The first page arouses one's interest and it is not allowed to flag during the entire story.

AN ADVENTURE IN EXILE

By RICHARD DUFFY

A romance of Normandy, by a new and brilliant writer.

"A good story well written."—Buffalo News.

"Some excellent character drawing."—Providence Journal.

"It would be difficult to find a more interesting story."—Boston Globe.

THE BROKEN SNARE

By LUDWIG LEWISOHN

A psychological romance of great power by a new writer. Shows the utter failure and ultimate defeat of a man and woman who attempted to fly in the face of convention because they did not believe in the marriage ceremony.

NEW POPULAR COPYRIGHTS

THE ONE WHO SAW

By HEADON HILL

Author of "The Duke Decides," "The Avengers," etc.

An English story. It starts with an old baronet who has to die by poison, and with the acknowledged love of the baronet's son for the doctor's daughter. A shrewd criminal, known as the "Long Medico," manages so to distribute suspicion and trouble over the baronet's death as to keep everybody in suspense for a long time.

Mr. Hill shows much ingenuity in making relationships serve his purpose between characters.

THE AVENGERS

By HEADON HILL

Author of "The Duke Decides," "The One Who Saw," etc.

A mystery story of English life that hinges upon the remarkable resemblance of two men. The heroine, very rich, is engaged to a crazy man, whose mother has put him in an insane asylum; she plans to get him out by smuggling his double into the institution; of course, the double falls in love with the heroine.

BARBARA REBELL

By MRS. BELLOC-LOWNDES

Author of "Jane Oglander."

There is a dignity and charm about this book that lifts it quite above the ordinary run of present-day fiction. The little village of Chancton and the ancient estate of Chancton Priory form the setting for this picture of English life, which is drawn with a touch both firm and delicate. The contrast and play of character in the group of people concerned in the story is finely shown.

THE FLAW IN THE SAPPHIRE

By CHARLES M. SNYDER

Author of "Comic History of Greece," etc.

The F-I-T-S is really a story within a story, and its plot, development and literary workmanship will hold the reader's attention from the first page to the last.

The plot is most involved and the story is written in gravely grandiloquent style, in itself entertaining.

NEW POPULAR COPYRIGHTS

THE SEA ROVERS

By RUFUS ROCKWELL WILSON

Author of "A Noble Company of Adventurers."

With 8 half-tone pictures by May Fratz. 12*mo. Cloth.*

Is of unusual interest to young and old. Landlubbers know little of the seafaring professions, and the topics, as shown by the following table of contents, will make interesting, instructive and exciting reading: The Deep Sea Diver—An Ocean Flyer's Crew—The Man-of-Warsman—Soldiers Who Serve Afloat—The Police of the Coast—The Ocean Pilot—Gloucester Fisher Folk—The Lighthouse Keeper—Life Saving Along Shore—Whalers of the Arctic Sea.

A NOBLE COMPANY OF ADVENTURERS

By RUFUS ROCKWELL WILSON

Author of "Sea Rovers," etc.

Illustrated by May Fratz. 12*mo. Cloth.*

A boy's book, informing and at the same time of absorbing interest: A Noble Company of Adventurers—The Gold Seekers—The Canadian Mounted Police—The Mining of Coal—The Cowboys of the Plains—Building a Railroad—Work of the Texas Rangers—Life in a Logging Camp—The Men Who Hunt for Oil—Tales of the Fire Fighters.

A BIRD CAGE

By WALLACE IRWIN

Author of "Love Sonnets of a Woodsman."

Drawings in color by Edna Morse. 4*to. Cloth.*

"A Bird Cage" has two claims to popularity, either one of which would make a book of more than usual merit. The verses by Wallace Irwin are in his most delightful manner. Need more be said? Certainly not to those who know the sprightly humor of Wallace Irwin's muse. The illustrations of Edna Morse are a book in themselves. If they were not fortunate enough to have the help of Mr. Irwin's text, they could have been published alone, and would have made the children's picture book of the year.

FATHER CROW AND HIS CREW

By FRANKLIN H. OLMSTED

Illustrated by T. Gilbert White.

The doings of Father Crow's Crew, the denizens of a typical farm: Old Dog, Mother Hen, Mr. Muskrat, Dr. Crane, the Duck, the Fox, and other friends, and of course old Father Crow himself. The simply told stories make a charming juvenile which will be a delight to every child interested in outdoor life. The illustrations by T. Gilbert White are unusually appropriate.

Cloth, 12mo.

THE VILLAGE OF HIDE AND SEEK

By BINGHAM THOBURN WILSON

Author of "Ye Mountaineer," "The Tale of Phantom Yacht," etc.
With eight full-page illustrations in color by W. Herbert Dunton.

The Village of Hide and Seek is hidden high up in the mountains, and proves to be the home of all the dolls. It is a city of tiny playhouses ruled over by the Sister of Santa Claus, who is also Queen of the Dolls.

One of the most beautiful children's books ever published.

Cloth, 12mo.

THE LIBERATORS

By ISAAC N. STEVENS

Author of "An American Suffragette," "Popular Government Essays," etc.

A most timely political story. While it deals with abstruse and complicated government subjects, it does so in an entertaining and delightful manner. It is fiction, but all of it might easily have been fact. The story is fearless, clean and wholesome.

Cloth, 12mo.

INTERNATIONAL CRITICAL COMMENTARY on the Holy Scriptures of the Old and New Testaments. Issued under the editorship of Prof. C. A. BRIGGS, D.D., in America, and Prof. S. R. DRIVER, D.D., and Rev. ALFRED PLUMMER, D.D., in Great Britain.

This Commentary is international and inter-confessional, and is free from polemical and ecclesiastical bias. It is based upon a thorough critical study of the original texts of the Bible, and upon critical methods of interpretation. It is designed chiefly for students and clergymen, and will be written in a compact style. Historical and Archaeological questions, as well as questions of Biblical Theology, are included in the plan of the Commentary, but not Practical or Homiletical Exegesis. The volumes constitute a uniform series.

Scribner's Magazine

Advance Announcement—1911—1912

THE NEW SERIAL

Beginning in October

The Turnstile. By A. E. W. MASON, author of "At the Villa Rose", "The Broken Road", etc.

A story with an absorbing plot that takes hold of the reader's interest at the very start and holds it to the end. It will prove the great serial of the year.

A remarkable three-part serial, Ethan Frome, by EDITH WHARTON. Mrs. Wharton has given her readers a gallery of remarkable characters—they are always characters and not lay figures—but few of them will leave a deeper impression or hold the interest longer than the life story of Ethan Frome. He is one of those men who might have been hewn out of his native granite, but with an intense humanity that brings his story very near.

The Magazine has never published a story of adventure that met with more instant popularity than GENERAL FREDERICK FUNSTON'S true story of his fighting with Cuban Insurgents. This is being followed by the same author's even more exciting narrative of Fighting in the Phillipines.

A group of remarkable papers dealing with American Political History in Our Own Times will be contributed by JAMES FORD RHODES, author of the now standard History of the United States, whose articles in 1911 will appear exclusively in this Magazine. They will deal with the two dramatic presidential conventions of 1880 and 1884, with the two Cleveland Administrations.

General Grant's Letters to a Friend (General E. F. Beale). These friendly letters of the great soldier reveal him a most interesting correspondent. They have the same directness and clarity of thought that made his Memoirs one of the great modern books.

THE HIBBERT JOURNAL

A QUARTERLY REVIEW OF RELIGION, THEOLOGY AND PHILOSOPHY

Cheyne, and Professor Henry Jones. The members of the American editorial board, among whom are Professor Josiah Royce, Rev. R. Heber Newton, D.D., Professor A. C. M'Giffert, Professor Wm. Adams Brown, and Professor B. W. Bacon, D.D., are a sufficient guaranty that through their co-operation THE HIBBERT will be thoroughly representative of the best American scholarship.

Sasanoa and the Wool Witch

A Romance of Legendary History

By Rev. George S. Delano

This beautiful story in verse tells us in vivid imagination of Sasanoa who was an Indian Princess at the time when the Wool Witch held sway in the valley of the Kennebec, from Kineo to Seguin, and from the Bay of Fogs to Machigonne.

The Wool Witch was no mere necromancer; she was prophetess, seer, and priestess; her power was absolute throughout the land wherever her name was known. She it was who turned Indian cruelty and vengeance upon themselves, and by her marvellous insight into Nature's mysteries, brought about the concentration of volcanic forces which ploughed from the Kennebec to Hockamock bay the path where now, between Arrowsic and Woolwitch islands, Sasanoa river winds its way among marshes and through Hell Gate's rock-strewn channel. Arrowsic, the young Indian, was the Wool Witch's controlled, visible power among the Indians. Around him and Sasanoa, weaves the romance of legendary history of days when Egyptian touched hand and heart with Israelite in the land now Maine.

Bound in Indian red cloth, stamped in gold on back and cover; gilt top; uncut edges. Put up in neat slide case. Frontispiece, x+96 pp., (6 x 8¼), $1.00 net.

Hawaii under King Kalakaua

By Rev. Leavitt H. Hallock

This little gem of literary and historic interest is a tale of the picturesque and petite Kingdom of Hawaii under its last dynasty, before the American Nation enrolled it among her newer possessions.

With a rare descriptive ability Dr. Hallock, from personal experience, has minted a few "coin of the realm" for popular circulation: the book is abundantly and beautifully illuminated with full-page half-tones which add much to this fascinating tale.

All who have been, and many who cannot yet go to this enchanted world, will delight in such a pen-and-kodak picture of these beautiful "Isles of the Pacific." It lands one in the heart of the wonderful volcanoes, and introduces him to the vanishing "kanaka" and the beautiful native girl of the subtropics,—to their customs, costumes and habits of life.

Beautifully illustrated with half-tone plates made expressly for this book. Bound in Imperial English cloth, gilt top, embossed on back and sides in gold. Put up in slide case. x+71 pp., 21 illustrations, (4 x 7½), $1.00 net.

Why our Flag floats over Oregon

By Rev. Leavitt H. Hallock

If any chapter of American history bristles with romantic interest, it is the conquest of the great Northwest by a "pawn" who thus achieved royalty, and saved an empire to the flag. Marcus Whitman won the bloodless victory in an all-winter struggle with the elements, crossing the "Stoney Mountains." and gained a promise from the President which finally gave us all the "Oregon Country!"

Dr. Hallock has dug among the historic facts, and with the pencil of an artist has outlined the story in graphic form, which every one ought to read; our young folks in particular should become familiar with this book, packed solid with the seeds of patriotism and many thrilling incidents of our eventful history.

Beautifully printed on a special hand-made paper from Caslon old-style type and profusely illustrated. Bound in Imperial English cloth, gilt top, embossed on back and side in gold. Put up in slide case. x+80 pp., (4 x 7½), $1.00 net.

Abraham Lincoln: The Man and the Crisis

By Wilmot Brookings Mitchell, Professor of Rhetoric and Oratory, Bowdoin College

When Bowdoin College, on Feb. 12, 1909, celebrated the one hundredth anniversary of Lincoln's birth, the orator of the occasion was Professor Mitchell, who had made a thorough study of the life of our martyred President. On the same day, he delivered an oration at the Lincoln celebration by our State Legislature at Augusta. Some of the results of his study of the life of this "First American" he has now put in book form under the title "The Man and the Crisis."

The author points out that a powerful auxiliary to Lincoln's successful leadership was the mastery of a clear and noble prose style. But more than all else he was master of himself. In a whirlwind he stood self-poised.

The theme of the whole book is summed up in the last sentence: "In the battle for human liberty in the American Republic a great crisis came, and in the fullness of time there was a man to meet it."

This edition is printed on a handsome paper from 10-point old-style type. Bound in cloth, lettered on side in gold. Frontispiece, viii+32 pp., (5 x 8), $.50 net.

Bird Lyrics and Other Poems

By Charles E. Jackson

In many respects this little volume is one of the best bird books ever published. Mr. Jackson is a close student of nature and especially fond of birds. In his poems one can see, in imagination, the birds flitting about the branches of the trees and hear their melodious voices as they put forth their songs of cheer.

The frontispiece is of two little birds printed in colors, and is a neat setting for so dainty a volume.

It is printed on hand-made, deckle edge paper from foundry type of 10-point Caslon, and is beautifully done and a work of the printers' art. Bound with white back, blue cloth sides stamped in gold from an original design, and put up in dainty box. x+94 pp., (4 x 8), $1.00 net.

The Poems of Sappho

By John Myers O'Hara

An interpretative rendition into English by John Myers O'Hara. This, the only complete and unexpurgated translation of Sappho's "Odes and Fragments," is done in accordance with Pagan ideals and the spirit of the time in which the poetess lived. Arthur Symons pronounced it the finest thing done in Sapphic verse since Swinburne.

Sappho, the world's greatest woman poet, is thought to have been at her best about the year 610 B. C. Her poems remained in circulation as a whole up to 400 A. D. They were burned at Constantinople and Rome about 1073 A. D. by Christian authority as pernicious to the morals of the time. Had it not been for quotations of grammarians, lexicographers and scholars, no word of hers would have survived.

The book is beautifully printed from 10-point old-style type, on Italian hand-made paper with deckle edges, and is beautifully bound with onyx board sides and green cloth back lettered in gold. Frontispiece of Sappho and Her Companions beautifully printed on India tint paper adds much to the attractiveness of this volume. vi+100 pp., ($6\frac{1}{2}$ x $9\frac{3}{4}$), $2.00 net.

This edition is limited to five hundred numbered copies.

The findings of Natural Science reduced to Practical Studies in Psychology. By Dr. J. D. Buck, author of "Mystic Masonry" and "The Study of Man."

The book is not speculative nor theoretical. It does not deal so much with what others have written or "believed" on the subject of Psychology, as with what we all know and feel, with the attempt to explain aud utilize the natural faculties and powers of man; and to enlarge their realm, through personal experience and self-control. A book for all those interested in Life and Destiny.

George Bernard Shaw, His Life and Works. A Critical Biography. (Authorized.)

By ARCHIBALD HENDERSON, M. A., Ph. D.

Second Large Edition in press before publication. Net $5.00

With two plates in color (one, the frontispiece, from an autochrome by Alvin Langdon Coburn: the other from a water-color by Bernard Partridge,) two photogravures, 26 plates on art paper, and numerous illustrations in the text. In one volume, demy 8 vo. cloth gilt and gilt top.

This remarkable book, upon which the author has been at work for more than six years, is the authentic biography of the great Irish Dramatist and Socialist. In order to give it the full authority which any true biography of a living man must possess. Mr. Shaw has aided the author in every possible way. The book is based not only on the voluminous mass of Mr. Shaw's works, published, uncollected in book form or unpublished, but also an extensive data furnished the author by Mr. Shaw in person.

In speaking of Henderson's great work, James Douglas, in the London Star says: "Dr. Henderson is amazingly thorough. His book is a complete survey of the old Shavian legends. Dr. Henderson out-Boswell's, Boswell in his enormous pertinacity, his prodigious fidelity. He has not left a crumb for other biographers. Posterity will rejoice that it is all authorized. It is all that can be known and all that we need to know.

George Sampson in the London Daily Chronicle says: "Acknowledgment should be made of his (Dr. Henderson's) critical sanity and clear sighted enthusiam."

As to the physical attractions of this great volume, the publishers have spared no expense. It is a large 8vo., containing thirty-five illustrations taken of Shaw, his home and surroundings. Some of the greatest living English photographers have contributed masterpieces of photography. The illustrations are in phogravure, color and halftone.

Handsomely Bound in Cloth. Price Net $1.00

FOR HOME AND SCHOOL INSTRUCTION. A GREAT HELP TO PARENTS AND TEACHERS.

"The author has endeavored to impart all necessary knowledge in such a way as to create a pure mind. That he has succeeded is not only clear from a reading of these chapters but from the fact that these talks were printed by the Board of Education of Cincinnati, and distributed among principals and teachers. One can not read these talks without realization that the man giving them, understands the difficulties under which he must labor, and that he is doing this labor as a labor of love.

His methods may be learned from the talks to the school children and the college boys, and also from the special talks to teachers and parents, explaining the best method of discussing this difficult subject. The book will be a great help to many a sincere parent who knows he should do something for his children in this matter, but fears to begin, lest he should do more harm than good."—Boston Evening Transcript.

THE SECRET GARDEN

By Frances Hodgson Burnett

Author of "The Shuttle," "Little Lord Fauntleroy," etc.

THE tenderness and charm of "Little Lord Fauntleroy," the imagination and power of "The Dawn of a Tomorrow" and the gift of dramatic suspense displayed in "The Shuttle"—all the qualities which have made Mrs. Burnett the most beloved American story-teller are present in "The Secret Garden," intensified and enriched.

The story itself is most beautiful and inspiring. There is mystery in it and the suspense is maintained to the very end. There is "magic"—the magic of love, the magic of growth, the magic of the joy of living.

The secret garden, walled in and locked for years, is almost a character in the story. Dickon, who can make anything grow and is loved by all living things; dear, wise mother Sowerby; Colin, the invalid; the wilful Mary; Ben Weatherstaff; and, by no means least, the joyous little robin, who also plays his part—all are figures to delight the imagination and to live in memory indefinitely.

"The Secret Garden" opens its kindly gates, not only to all children, but to all who have been children, no matter how long grown up.

THE FRUITFUL VINE

By ROBERT HICHENS

Author of "The Garden of Allah," etc.

This important, long novel by the author of "The Garden of Allah" has a double claim to distinction:

Its setting, modern Rome with its incomparable memories, with its intensely interesting society: the old Italian nobility, the brilliant foreign diplomats and their families, and the rich and cultured of all nations;

Its basis, the unsatisfied longing for children on the part of a mutually devoted couple, Sir Theodore Cannynge and his beautiful wife, Dolores. What effect this want has on them, how through strength, weakness, blindness, circumstances, good and evil—all the warp and woof of human existence—their lives are made, is told in a story that is profoundly moving.

By his interpretation of human longing and motive, by the glowing color of his description, and by his tremendous dramatic power, Mr. Hichens in turn fascinates, charms and almost stuns the reader.

A PRAIRIE COURTSHIP

By HAROLD BINDLOSS

Author of "Winston of the Prairie," "Sydney Carteret, Rancher," etc.

"MAVERICK" Thorne, unfettered wanderer, is the appealing hero of this new Bindloss novel. Though a man of breeding, he was content to roam the vast prairies of the Canadian Northwest, selling gramophones to the settlers, and bringing them the cheer of his laughs and stories. But love came to awaken him. He settled down to the heroic tasks of a pioneer, and swung through to an unexpected victory. He never lost his merry recklessness, however, and shared in a thrilling struggle with the mounted police.

It is a virile, ringing story of the out of doors. The heroine declared, "When I first saw the prairie, it looked bare and grim. Now it is beautiful. Under the moonlight, it is steeped in glamour. Even the tiny grasses make elfin music." The free wilderness and the freer love of a gallant man had laid claim on her, as they do on the reader of this drama of the prairies.

PANDORA'S BOX

By JOHN A. MITCHELL

Author of "Amos Judd," "The Pines of Lory," "The Last American," etc.

THE SPIRIT of true romance pervades this delectable love-story of an American Architect and the daughter of a line of Earls that stretched back to the Conqueror. The genuine sentiment of the novel is varied with touches of shrewd common sense applied to some very venerable ideas and institutions. The psychic element in the plot recalls the author's delightful novel, "Amos Judd."

Octavia, the lady of high degree, and Lovejoy, the American, are such lovers as all the world must love: and the dog, Baseborn, the subordinate hero, will be a joy to every reader of sane and delicious fiction.

There is mystery in the plot, wit in the telling, and a radical, not to say idealistic, attitude toward modern life that is refreshing; above all, the novel has charm.

Cloth, 12mo. Four illustrations by the author. $1.30 net.

It is simply a collection of papers prepared for periodicals and magazines, and for the conventions of the Student Volunteer Movement by such authors as Mr. Robert E. Speer, Dr. Jacob Chamberlain, Dr. Henry Jessup, Mr. Eugene Stock, Bishop Thoburn, Mr. Harlan P. Beach, Dr. Gulick, Archdeacon Moule and others.—The Missionary Review.

"This is a book of personal counsel; all of its chapters were written by experienced missionaries, who place at the disposal of new missionaries some of their invaluable experience. The author vividly describes the land, people and religions of China, and gives an interesting account of missionary operations in this empire, with special references to changes following the Boxer uprising of 1900.

Decision of Character

By John Foster. 12mo, 64 pp.; cloth, 50 cents; paper, 25 cents.

Decisive Hour of Christian Missions, The

By John R. Mott. 12mo, 239 pp.; illustrations, map. Mission Study edition, paper, 35 cents; cloth, 50 cents. Library edition, gilt top, $1.00.

This book is packed with the latest data on mission problems and it gives the conclusions of the author's long study of these questions. A reading of the book produces the inevitable conviction that conditions in the non-Christian nation are such as to warrant the belief that there never has been, and it is hard to see how there will be again, such an opportunity confronting the Church. The book is a powerful appeal for action, a veritable call to arms. It is especially adapted for use as a Mission Study textbook.

Effective Workers in Needy Fields

By W. F. McDowell, R. P. McKay, D.D., W. F. Oldman, C. C. Creegan, D.D., and J. D. Davis. Bibliography, analytical index, illustrations. 12mo, 195 pp.; paper, 35 cents; cloth, 50 cents.

This book contains the record of five remarkable lives, all of them, with the exception of the first, written by persons who were intimately acquainted with the life which they so admirably portray. The reader is brought into a sympathetic knowledge of the lives and works of these modern missionaries: David Livingstone, Africa; George Leslie Mackay, Formosa; Isabella Thoburn, India; Cyrus Hamlin, Turkey, and Joseph Hardy Neesima, Japan.

Evangelization of the World in This Generation, The

By John R. Mott. Bibliography, analytical index. 12mo, 245 pp.; paper, 35 cents; cloth, decorated, gilt top, $1.00.

It is doubtful whether any missionary volume hitherto published can compare with it in strength of argument and in prophetic vision. It is stimulating, lucid, and convincing, addressing itself not to the emotions, but to the judgment; yet it is so spiritual in tone and purpose that it encourages and inspires the reader. No prospective leader of public sentiment in Church or State can afford to lose this course of study.—The Sunday School Times.

The book is doubly worth the reading, both for its moving appeal to the universal Christian consciousness and for the timely information it gives as to the grand sweep of modern missionary thought and effort, the wide-reaching activities of the present, and the marvelous opportunities of the future.—The Christian Advocate.

Out of a long and intimate experience the author deals with such questions as these: Who is the Missionary? What are his motives, aims, and methods? The volume is full of information which no one interested in the missionary problem, and certainly no Volunteer, should fail to study.

slam: A Challenge to Faith (Revised 1909)

By Samuel M. Zwemer. Statistical tables, maps, charts, index, bibliography; Mission Study Class Edition, paper, 35 cents; cloth, 50 cents. Library Edition $1.00.

The author is one of the leading authorities on Mohammedanism. The treatment of this, his latest volume on the subject, is descriptive and historical. It is most interestingly written, and the maps, charts, and tables are of great value.

"This book, by a scholarly missionary, still in the vigor of youth, is excellent in every respect, a model in book-making, so far as introductory matter, text, illustrations, arrangement, bibliography, and indexing are concerned. It is an ideal handbook for study, with maps, statistics, and all the apparatus for a careful examination of the subject. The needs and opportunities of the Mohammedan world from the standpoint of Christian missions is shown, and a flood of light is shed, that dissipates much of the mystery and romance about the rise of Mohammed and the religion named after him, and which makes obsolete much matter in the old encyclopedias."
The Homiletic Review.

The treatment is broad and catholic, and the attempt has been made to do equal justice to all leading elements that have entered into Japan's recent wonderful progress, including her relations with Russia.

A better manual upon the Japanese Empire and its evangelization could scarcely be produced.—Church Missionary Intelligencer.

Protestant Missions; Their Rise and Early Progress

By Augustus C. Thompson. Appendix, index. 12mo, 314 pp.; paper 35 cents; cloth, 50 cents.

An excellent summary of early Protestant missions; mainly biographical, and describing fully a few great missionaries rather than referring to many of comparatively little importance. The author sketches the history from the Reformation to a little more than a century ago, grouping his facts largely around leading missionaries, so that the charm of biography is added to that of little known history. Much of the volume has to do with early missions in the two Americas.

The Book of Buried Treasure

By RALPH D. PAINE
Author of "The Ships and Sailors of Old Salem," etc.

Being a True History of the Gold, Jewels, and Plate of Pirates, Galleons, etc., Which are sought for to this Day.

Crown 8vo Fully illustrated from photographs, old prints, etc., $2.50 net

There is no more fascinating theme in fact or fiction than the quest of lost treasure. The author has broken new ground in his investigation of the world's most famous treasure stories, and his researches at home and abroad have yielded a vast amount of material from original sources, much of it documentary. Among the British state papers, for example, he discovered documents that throw a surprising light on Captain Kidd and his adventures. Other important narratives in his romantic volume are those of Sir William Phips of Massachusetts Colony, the greatest treasure-finder ever known; of the lost Armada galleon of Tobermory Bay; of the pirates' hoards of Trinidad and Cocos Island; of the search for El Dorado. This is the first book of its kind, a history as entertaining as the most adventurous fiction and likely to remain an authority in its own field.

A Ship of Solace

By ELENOR MORDAUNT
Author of "The Garden of Contentment."

12mo Color frontispiece $1.00 net

This is the story, by the author of "The Garden of Contentment," of the sailing-ship voyage of two young ladies from Glasgow to Melbourne—one of these ladies in quest of health, the other bearing her company. The book is a charmingly vivacious account, full of humor and of poetry, of the experiences of the long journey in storm and sun-shine, of their rude comforts and discomforts, and of the interesting types in the ship's company. Through this account are woven two love-stories, one of which ends in a surprising mating. Such is the zest of the author, such her skill in creating the illusion of a personal experience, that readers of the book will lay it down with a sense of health and refreshment akin to that which the bracing breezes and care-free sea-wanderings brought the heroine and her companion.

World Without End

By AMBER REEVES

12mo $1.35 net

There are books that by a magic of their own lend charm and significance to the every-day world of every-day people. Of such is this delightfully realistic story. To read it is to live the very life of the heroine, a typical well-bred girl of to-day; to pass with her from childhood to marriage—and after; to share her romantic dreams, her sentimental experiences, her illusions and disillusions, the delights of her wooing, and the varied experiences of matrimony.

The Likable Chap

By HENRY McHARG DAVENPORT

A Story of Prep. School Life

12mo Illustrated $1.25 net

This tale portrays, with a vivid realism, boy life as it is in boarding schools of the best type to-day. The sports, school work, and social affairs which go to make up the life there are described with a gaiety, high-spirit, and a relish for the subject, which holds the reader's interest from cover to cover. The hero is a little Westerner, whom boys will find a prime companion and an unfailing well-spring of hope, energy and healthy determination to "make good." Youthful chivalry, generosity, pluck, faithful friendships, and a fine sense of honor give the book a high tone, and make it an expression of the buoyant spirit of well-bred American boyhood at its best.

The Life Story of J. Pierpont Morgan

An Authorized Biography

By CARL HOVEY

Crown 8vo Illustrated $2.50 net

This biography, authorized by the subject of it, is the personal history of J. Pierpont Morgan—not a theory of Wall Street, nor an argument about the money power. The story of Mr. Morgan's early life and business beginnings is followed by a scrupulously accurate account of his immense achievements. The book is a study, too, of a personality of extraordinary power and singular interest. The record of fact is enlivened by anecdote, personalia, and first-hand, "inside" information that will prove highly informing and at times equally diverting. Full attention is given to Mr. Morgan's struggle with Jay Gould, to the new birth of railroads under his hand, to the gold controversy of 1895, to the creation of U. S. Steel, to the true story of the panic of 1907, and to many other matters of hardly less moment.

The Life and Labors of Bishop Hare

Apostle to the Sioux

By M. A. DE WOLFE HOWE

Author of "Phillips Brooks," "Life and Letters of George Bancroft," etc.

Crown 8vo Illustrated $2.50 net

Bishop Hare was pioneer missionary to the Indians of South Dakota. He went to his post before the Custer massacre, when the region and its inhabitants were almost wholly savage, and remained there till the wilderness became a prosperous state, and the Indians were turned from barbarism to civilization. In this change he bore a great part, and his relation to the Government in its Indian policy gives him a unique place in secular as well as missionary history. His personality is singularly attractive—a man of finest fibre, marked for distinction in any surroundings, who did his pioneer's work the better by reason of his highly civilized qualities.

Their Majesties as I Knew Them

My Personal Recollections of the Kings and Queens of Europe

By XAVIER PAOLI

Crown 8vo Profusely illustrated $2.50 net

For twenty-five years M. Paoli has been instrusted with the duty of guarding the persons of monarchs who visit France, and fifteen emperors and kings, a half dozen empresses and queens, and unnumbered grand dukes and princes of the blood have been safeguarded by him. He has enjoyed the confidence of many of the great in station, and has heard their impressions. The natural desire to know something of such royal and distinguished personages may be fully gratified by these authentic, first-hand, intimate, and every-way interesting recollections.

Paper-Bag Cookery

By NICOLAS SOYER

16mo 60 cents net

Chef of Brooks's Club, London

A paragraph can do but scant justice to a book which, as Mr. George R. Sims, the English expert in matters culinary and epicurean, has said is a revelation and means a revolution in the art of cookery. England is already adopting this method, which, in brief, involves cooking almost everything in paper-bags on a broiler in any kind of oven. The book explains the procedure, and gives the recipes of the famous chef who is the author of it. The method applies alike to the humblest and the most elaborate establishments. The advantages are: (1) It makes every dish more savory, (2) It is time-saving—no washing of pots and pans, (3) It is sanitary—no germ-haunted utensils, (4) It is economical—the food weighs the same before and after cooking, (5) It does away with the smell of cooking.

This method has had an immense vogue already, and will help all classes—epicures, working people, bachelors and bachelor maids, sportsmen and camp-fire cooks.

With Pack and Rifle Through Trackless Labrador

By H. HESKETH PRICHARD, F.R.G.S.

Author of "Hunting Camps in Wood and Wilderness," "Through the Heart of Patagonia," "Don Q.," etc.

H. Hesketh Prichard

The author of this book, known over the English-speaking world as big-game hunter, explorer, cricketer, and naturalist, and as a writer of short stories and books of travel, here tells of his latest expedition, with but two companions, across the well-nigh unmapped Barrens of Labrador—a perilous undertaking which had cost others before him their lives.

The record of this exciting adventure carries with it much of importance that is fit to please sportsmen, naturalists and lovers of adventure. The illustrations from photographs by the author of animal life and of the wild region are quite unmatched.

The Great Wall of China

New and Cheaper Edition By WILLIAM EDGAR GEIL

Illustrated with one hundred full-page plates and a map

8vo $2.50 net

The author of this book, now published in a new and cheaper edition, an indefatigable traveller and explorer, was the first foreigner to travel the whole 1700 miles of that stupendous and ancient fortification, the Great Wall of China. He here tells of his expedition in a record as entertaining as a picturesque and lively travel-narrative as it is valuable to the historian, the anthropologist, the naturalist, and the sociologist. The illustrations—there are more than one hundred full-page plates—are by their novelty and extraordinary general interest such as rarely enrich a book of travel. The book in its present cheaper form comes within the reach of those who could not procure the more costly first edition.

Good Cheer

The Romance of Food and Feasting

By F. W. HACKWOOD
Author of "Inns, Ales and Drinking Customs of Old England," etc.

With a coloured frontispiece and 24 other illustrations

Demy 8vo, cloth, $2.50 net

This diverting book, appropriate to the holiday season, is enlivened by literary references and anecdotal illustrations. It approaches its subject from the historic and picturesque side; reference is made to Roman banquets, Old English fare, right royal feasting, and baronial profusion; to national dishes and national prejudices; to feasting and fasting, and the influence of diet upon health and character. The work deals with the cook and his art; with epicures; with manners and customs of the dining table; with anthropophagy, vegetarianism, and the curiosities of diet, etc., etc.

A Little Book of Home-Spun Verse

12mo Frontispiece portrait of author $1.00 net

CIVIL ENGINEERS' POCKETBOOK

Nearly Ready

By ALBERT I. FRYE, M. Am. Soc. C. E.

A COMPREHENSIVE treatment of Civil Engineering, in seventy sections, comprising about 1,400 pages; with 500 tables and 1,000 illustrations. Also a complete glossary of engineering terms.

Each main subject receives economic consideration and analysis, and is reinforced with excerpts from, and references to the most important cost and other data in our leading technical publications—including hundreds of illustrations of up-to-date engineering structures and details.

"How to design engineering structures economically" has received careful study in the preparation of this work. The fundamental principles laid down can be followed readily by every young engineer, and carried to practical completion in the finished structure.

Most of the tables are new and have been prepared regardless of time and expense. Many of them have been arranged in a novel manner which will appeal especially to engineers; and all have been carefully checked and rechecked to eliminate the possibility of errors.

Graphical methods have been illustrated freely throughout the work, in connection with analytical solutions.

Methods and cost of work have received special attention; and, thus, there is crowded into the 1,400 pages of text, in small type and in pocketbook form, a vast amount of engineering data, formulas and tables, that will be found absolutely indispensable to every engineer, contractor and student.

CHEEVER.—Select Methods in Inorganic Quantitative Analysis. By Byron W. Cheever, A.M., M.D., late Acting Professor of Metallurgy in the University of Michigan. Revised and enlarged by Frank Clemes Smith, Professor of Geology, Mining and Metallurgy in the State School of Mines, Rapid City, S. D. Parts I. and II. New Fourth Edition. 12mo. $2.00.

The first part of this book, as indicated by the title, consists of Laboratory Notes for a Beginner's Course in Quantitative Analysis. It considers the subjects of Gravimetric and Volumetric Analysis, for beginners, by means of the chemical analysis of a set of substances, properly numbered, in each case giving the methods to be followed in such analysis; also the methods for calculating and preparing volumetric standard solutions, generally following the course offered by Professor Cheever to his students. It also considers the methods for the determination of the specific gravities of various liquids and solids.

Although a number of the analyses contained in Part I. may be of only approximate accuracy, and of small commercial value, such are yet included with a special purpose, to wit:—that they may supply the student with a wider range of work and a greater diversity of chemical manipulation. This was Professor Cheever's idea, and it is certainly a good one, especially since, in most cases, the work of the beginner simply serves to emphasize the necessity of careful scrutiny of details and methods for practical work in the future.

Part I. is offered, then, for the use of schools and colleges, and it is intended to supply a source of elementary information upon the subject of Quantitative Chemical Analysis rarely offered in such form in works upon that subject.—Preface.

The author was for many years Professor of Metallurgy in the University of Michigan, and the methods here presented are those mostly offered by him to his students. As a beginner's book in quantitative analysis, it will be found eminently practical, and it can be honestly recommended to the student who desires a source of elementary information upon this branch of applied science. The book is divided into two parts, the first consisting of laboratory notes for beginners. The subjects of gravimetric and volumetric analysis are considered by means of the chemical analysis of a set of substances, properly numbered, in each case giving the methods to be followed in such analysis, and also the methods of calculating and preparing volumetric standard solutions, etc. Methods for the determination of specific gravities of various liquids and solids are also considered.

Part II. contains a number of select methods in inorganic quantitative analysis, such as the analysis of limestone, iron ores, manganese ores, steel, the analysis of coal, water, mineral phosphates, smelting ores, lead slags, copper, arsenic, bismuth, etc. A chapter on reagents concludes the work.—Pharmaceutical Era.

CLASSEN - HARRIMAN.—Quantitative Analysis. By Alexander Classen, Director of the Laboratory of Inorganic Chemistry and Electro Chemistry in the Royal Technical School, Aachen. Authorized Translation from the Fifth German Edition, with an Appendix on the Qualitative Analysis of Minerals, Ores, Slags, Metals, Alloys, Etc., including the Rare Elements, by Norman F. Harriman, Assistant in Chemistry in the University of Michigan. 79 Illustrations. Handsomely bound in half leather, $4.00.

What the London Chemical News says: "One of the features of Classen's book that makes it well adapted to the needs of those beginning the study of quantitative analysis, is the practical arrangement of the subjects treated: after a chapter on general operations, the author takes up first crystallizable salts, then alloys and minerals, and eventually advances to ores, slags, waters, etc., of increasing difficulty. The instructions in each example are very clear, being the result of long experience as a teacher and as an expert analyst. The section on pig-iron, steel, spiegeleisen, ferromanganese, etc., seems to be quite full, occupying forty pages; an equal number of pages is occupied with potable waters and mineral waters, while the section on organic analysis is rather brief, as might be expected in a work of this description.

Volumetric analysis is treated separately (pp. 407-459), but the methods in this section are often referred to in the body of the work. Qualitative methods, with special reference to minerals, ores, slags, metals, and alloys, are described in a voluminous appendix. The volume closes with several useful tables and a full index.

The translator has done his share of the work with linguistic skill born of familiarity with German and an appreciation of the requirements of good English. He has strengthened the volume by introducing some processes that had been overlooked by the German author, notably the method for the proximate analysis of coal recommended by the Committee of the American Chemical Society, Handy's rapid volumetric method for phosphorus in pig-iron (titration of the phosphomolbydate precipitate), and some of the methods of that eminent expert on rock analysis, Dr. W. F. Hillebrand, of the U. S. Geological Survey, whose 'Bulletin' is frequently cited."

A bibliography based on practical experience. The author is a professor in the Michigan State Normal College. As the myths of all nations manifest themselves first in religion, secondly in art, and third in literature, these reading references are grouped in the above classes. One section is devoted to the study of mythology in the grades, and an introductory chapter gives hints for teaching the subject in the lower grades. The books suggested in the body of the work are given in one alphabet at the end, with publishers and prices; there are also blank pages for additional references, and a good general index.—Publishers Weekly.

DWYER.—Cases on Private International Law. By John W. Dwyer, University of Michigan. 8vo. 509 pages. Buckram, $2.50.

This is a very excellent collection of cases on private international law made by Mr. Dwyer, covering a variety of subjects, and is intended especially for the use of students, though certain to prove interesting and valuable to all practitioners.—Albany Law Journal.

DWYER.—Law and Procedure of United States Courts. By John W. Dwyer, LL.M., author of "Cases on Private International Law." Instructor in the Law Department of the University of Michigan. 8vo. 361 pages. Bound in Buckram, $2.75. Sheep, $3.50.

The purpose of this work is to give a brief and concise statement of the organization, jurisdiction and practice of the various courts of our national government. It is intended as an elementary work for students in law schools, students in law offices and for young lawyers who have not received systematic instruction in this subject. In stating the jurisdiction of the courts, the author has inserted a number of the decisions of the Supreme Court. This valuable feature of the book cannot fail to commend itself to students and instructors alike. Similarly, the object of the chapter on the history of the United States is to remind the student of the circumstances as they existed at the time our government was formed—to recall the principal events in our historical development, so that the constitutional provisions may be interpreted in their true light. The author asserts, truly, that a knowledge of this branch of the law is more necessary at this time than ever before, because of the steady increase of litigation, arising from the rapid growth and reaching out of the business of the country and the bringing of certain questions within federal control. The book is exceedingly well arranged, containing besides tables of cases and tables of contents, a copious index. It cannot fail to prove highly useful for the purposes intended. We can heartily commend it to instructors and students.—Albany Law Journal.

DZIOBEK.—Mathematical Theories of Planetary Motions. By Dr. Otto Dziobek, Privatdocent in the Royal Technical High School of Berlin, Charlottenburg. Translated by Mark W. Harrington, formerly Chief of the United States Weather Bureau, and Professor of Astronomy and Director of the Observatory at the University of Michigan, President of the University of Washington, and Wm. J. Hussey, University of Michigan. 8vo. 294 pages. $3.50.

This work is intended not merely as an introduction to the special study of astronomy, but rather for the student of mathematics who desires an insight into the creations of his masters in this field. The lack of a text-book, giving, within moderate limits and in a strictly scientific manner, the principles of mathematical astronomy in their present remarkably simple and lucid form, is undoubtedly the reason why so many mathematicians extend their knowledge of the solar system but little beyond Kepler's law. The author has endeavored to meet this need, and at the same time to produce a book which shall be so near the present state of the science as to include recent investigations and to indicate unsettled questions.

KRAUS.—Essentials of Crystallography. By Prof. Edward H. Kraus, University of Michigan. 165 pages, 450 illustrations. $1 60.

Professor Kraus apparently makes the fundamental assumption that crystallography cannot be learned outside of a crystallographic laboratory or without the guidance of a teacher. He has thus been able to cut down his text to 162 pages and to offer his book for sale at a price corresponding to one cent per page. The large number of figures for a book of such small compass, shows that so far as possible the training is to be through the eye and the identification of models and crystals made easy.—Professor W. H. Hobbs, University of Michigan, in Science.

The book seems well suited for its purpose, and puts in a concise and compact form that part of its subject which is absolutely essential for an understanding of crystallography.—J. C. J. in Journal of Geology.

This little book will doubtless prove serviceable to instructors in crystallography, because of its many illustrations and tables of crystal forms. It may likewise prove serviceable to chemists familiar with the older forms of crystallographic nomenclature, since these are here brought into association with the new terms based on 32 classes.—Professor E. B. Mathews, John Hopkins University, in American Chemical Journal.

LLOYD.—Philosophy of History. An Introduction to the Philosophical Study of Politics. By Professor Alfred H. Lloyd, University of Michigan. 12mo. 250 pages. Cloth, $1.00.

Philosophy of History.—"Professor Lloyd has already outlined his conception of history in a volume entitled Citizenship and Salvation (1897). The present exposition is at the same time more definite and more comprehensive. About a third of the book is devoted to a philosophic study of the data of history; and this is followed by an analysis of the social unit, the group, and by a systematic account of the formula of history as it appears to the philosopher. The last four chapters are essays in which such topics as 'Good and Evil' and 'The Great Man' are treated from the historical point of view which is expounded in the main part of the volume. In these chapters as well as in the second part of the book acute and valuable comments on different phases of historical development abound. The first part of the volume, however, discussing Time, Causation, the Individual and Nature as data of history (is the most) valuable."—The Philosophical Review, March, 1900.

"The Philosophy of History is a meritorious attempt to connect the facts of history with the causes which have influenced the social evolution of the human race. Most writers are satisfied with the visible, immediate and direct causes of the rise or fall of nations . . . . . but Professor Lloyd wants us to go deeper yet, ... (but) whatever be the mental attitude of the readers with regard to the positions advocated in the book all will admit that it is written with great keenness of perception and with a sincere desire to reconcile, so far as possible all intellectual differences. If the author has not succeeded in accomplishing the task (of reconciliation), it is because there are differences that can not be reconciled, even by benevolence and ingenuity combined."—Annals of the American Academy of Political and Social Science, March, 1900.

McCANDLESS.—Tabular Analysis of the Law of Real Property, following Blackstone. Arranged by L. W. McCandless. 19 charts. Quarto. Cloth, $1.50.

This analysis follows Book II of Blackstone, and will prove a very valuable aid to students. The critic remembers that in the dim and hoary past when he was a student himself, he prepared an analysis of Bispam's Equity. He certainly endeavored to do complete justice to that learned work and the result was a sheet some 1x4 (yards) in dimensions. Acting according to the advice of some intimate friends he hung it up, on a shade roller, but somehow, never could persuade anybody to read it completely through. In fact, the aforesaid critic was afraid to attempt it itself when the "magnum opus" was once finished and the fearful and wonderful document still remains filed away among his dusty papers. This little incident of a past career is mentioned not that we would discourage the reader of Mr. McCandless's work or in any way compare his learned production with the superficial synopsis which we had ourselves compiled. It has long been a source of wonder to us why real estate law has not hitherto been "chartered," for there seems to be no branch of jurisprudence so well adapted to such a form of presentation. The author's work gives a bird's eye view of real property principles and as previously stated will prove of great value to the student, particularly around examination time for he can tell at a glance what would otherwise force him to spend much valuable time in searching through Blackstone. Take it all in all, the author is to be heartily commended and we would like to see his work used as a text-book in not only the University of Michigan but in all the leading law schools of the country. For the benefit of them who have not had the pleasure of perusing it we can state that it is a series of some nineteen large charts each about 2 feet by 1 1-2, handsomely bound so that the entire subject may be embraced in series of sweeping glances.—Law Journal, N. Y.

WATSON.—Tables for the Calculation of Simple or Compound Interest and Discount and the Averaging of Accounts. The Values of Annuities, Leases, Interest in Estates and the Accumulations and Values of Investments at Simple or Compound Interest for all Rates and Periods; also Tables for the Conversion of Securities and Value of Stocks and Bonds. With full Explanation for Use. By James C. Watson, Ph.D., LL.D. Quarto. Cloth, $2.50.

Watson, formerly Director of the Observatories and Professor of Astronomy at the Universities of Michigan and Wisconsin, and Actuary of the Michigan Mutual Life Insurance Company.

It contains, in addition to the usual tables for the calculation of simple or compound interest and discount, many tables of remarkable value, not found elsewhere, for the averaging of accounts, the values of annuities, leases, interests in estates, and the accumulations and values of investments; also tables for the conversion of securities, and the values of stocks and bonds.

There are also given very full and clear explanations of the principles involved in financial transactions, and a great variety of miscellaneous examples are worked out in detail to illustrate the problems arising in interest, discount, partial payments, averaging of accounts, present values, annuities of different kinds, annual payments for a future expectation (as in life insurance), or for a sinking fund, conversion of securities, values of stocks and bonds, and life interests.

This book was issued from the press under the author's careful supervision. Professor Watson was noted for his clear insight into problems involving computations, and also for his wonderful ability in presenting the method of solution of such problems in a plain and simple manner. The varied array of practical examples given in connection with his "Table" shows these facts in a remarkable manner. This book provides, for those least expert in calculations, the means of avoiding mistakes likely to occur; and for the man engrossed in the cares of business, the means of making for himself, with entire accuracy, the calculation which he may need, at the moment when it is needed.

The information given is authentic, and many of the related incidents were actual occurrences. They are books of information and adventure combined. Such stories as these are not only interesting to the young people but carry with them an insight into naval life which will make the reader have more respect and appreciation of the work of Uncle Sam's navy. They are first-class stories for boys — clean, good, and worthy of a place in the home, private or school library.

"These are the best stories on the United States Navy which have ever been written. They give a clear insight into the workings of this important branch of American government and the characters are true to life as befits a book written by such a man as Commander Beach, who has enjoyed an enviable career ever since he entered the United States Navy." — New York Times.

Egerton R. Young.

THE BATTLE OF THE BEARS. Life in the Northland. Beautifully illustrated by photographs and pen and ink drawings. 341 pp. Cloth bound. $1.50.

STEPPING STONES OF AMERICAN HISTORY. By fourteen writers, eminent as educators, historians, and statesmen. Illustrated with fourteen full-page pictures in color by Frank O. Small. 391 pp. Cloth. $2.25 net.

The list of fourteen subjects selected as representing the foundation stones in our history, from the discovery of our country to the forming of the national government, was chosen with the greatest of care, and each subject has been treated by a writer who is an authority on his special topic. The characters in the illustrations are portraits, as far as is possible, and special care has been taken in research to make the pictures accurate as well as interesting.

MADGE AT CAMP WELLES. By Edith A. Sawyer and Alice Freeman Walmsley. Fully illustrated. 327 pp. Cloth. $1.50.

A story of girls' camp school life among the New Hampshire hills. This is the initial volume of a series of books on the duties and pleasures of camp life.

The author has ably used the opportunity of introducing beautiful bits of nature and the story is replete with such experiences and trips as take place in a party of young people. Because of the nearness of a boys' camp a rivalry in sports is aroused, which adds life to the story. The present interest in camps of this kind will make this volume unusually welcome by girl readers.

PHIL'S HAPPY GIRLHOOD. A story. By Grace Blanchard. Fully illustrated. 357 pp. Cloth. $1.50.

A book by a successful librarian who knows what young people want and also possesses the ability to give it to them. It is a splendid story of up-to-date life among young people, showing their pleasures and their work. The characters which one finds in the story are those which one would run across almost anywhere in everyday life.

THOSE PRESTON TWINS. A story. By Izola Forrester. Fully illustrated. 294 pp. Cloth. $1.25.

This story is fitted alike for boys and girls, in that it relates the pleasures and experiences of twins, a boy and a girl, and also shows a happy home life in spite of sorrow and uncertainty. All the usual fun that a crowd of boys and girls can get out of life in a small town is woven into the story, and there is a wholesome, happy tone throughout the book, so that it cannot fail to find a favorite niche on the shelf for boys and girls from twelve to fourteen.

Sidford F. Hamp.

DALE AND FRASER — SHEEPMEN. A story of Colorado sheep-raising. Illustrated. 312 pp. Cloth. $1.50.

THE BOYS OF CRAWFORD'S BASIN. A story of Colorado ranch life of the early seventies. Illustrated. 334 pp. Cloth bound. $1.50.

"Dale and Fraser — Sheepmen" is a picture of the life of a Western wool-grower, an existence eventful and oftentimes most exciting, teeming with the many adventures that fall to the lot of a sheepman of the high plains.
It is a clear portrayal of the important wool-growing industry, as practised in Colorado, and its truthfulness will receive the indorsement of those who are best able to judge.
Mr. Hamp has written "The Boys of Crawford's Basin" as a companion volume to "Dale and Fraser — Sheepmen," and it is a faithful picture of ranch life in the Colorado mountains at a time when all the country beyond reach of the railroads, which then stopped short at the base of the foothills, was an almost tractless wilderness of peaks and valleys.

THE TRAIL OF THE BADGER. A story of the Colorado border thirty years ago. Illustrated. 351 pp. Price, $1.50.

The subject of "The Trail of the Badger" has for its motive the great subject of desert reclamation, and it presents a graphic and true picture of life on the southern border of Colorado at the time when the eager seeker after gold and silver was intruding his unwelcome presence upon the long settled and slow moving Mexican communities.

Mrs. C. V. Jamison.

SERAPH, THE LITTLE VIOLINISTE. Illustrated. 298 pp. Cloth. $1.50.

THE PENHALLOW FAMILY. A story. Illustrated. 317 pp. Cloth. $1.50.

One of the reasons for the great success of Mrs. Jamison's books is that she thoroughly understands young people and knows how to describe them naturally and truthfully.
One of her most charming stories is that in which she describes "Seraph, the little violiniste," the child with the wonderful gift of music, which finds its natural expression through the medium of the violin.
In "The Penhallow Family," the story is located in an old town in one of the British Provinces, while its families are drawn from one of the noblest of old Scotch families. The author's portrayal of the young heroine, in all her strength and beauty of character, adds much of value as well as interest.

Carolyn Wells.

THE DORRANCE DOMAIN. A story. Illustrated. 301 pp. Cloth. $1.50.

DORRANCE DOINGS. A story. Sequel to "The Dorrance Domain." Illustrated. 351 pp. Cloth. $1.50.

Carolyn Wells, noted for the wit and humor which she introduces into her stories, has never written more entertaining volumes than these, in which she follows the ups and downs of the Dorrance family.

The Dorrance children, although well-bred, are by nature noisy and frolicsome, and the poor grandmother is at her wit's end to know what to do. It is when things look the darkest that the "Dorrance Domain" and the "Flower Folly" appear, both of which prove to be "godsends" to dear old Grandmother Dorrance and the Dorrance children. The "Domain" was theirs, and how during the summer they turned it to their advantage, their pleasure, and to success forms the groundwork for "The Dorrance Domain." But as the winter approached other arrangements had to be made. Life in the city was even more distasteful to this happy-go-lucky family than ever. As things looked the darkest the "Flower Folly" was chosen by the family as their winter home, and in the "Dorrance Doings" their life during the winter is graphically portrayed.

Every reader will be enthusiastic over the spirit and pluck of her characters.

Nina Rhoades.

RUTH CAMPBELL'S EXPERIMENT. A story. Illustrated. 288 pp. Cloth. $1.25.

THAT PRESTON GIRL. A story. Illustrated. 340 pp. Cloth. $1.50.

POLLY'S PREDICAMENT. A story. Illustrated. 341 pp. Cloth. $1.50.

Miss Rhoades' up-to-date stories are just the ones which girls will enjoy, as they are true pictures of life, and contain experiences and adventures which have fallen to the lot of many. In "Ruth Campbell's Experiment" the author has depicted the life of a most interesting girl who worked her way up under adverse circumstances, while in "That Preston Girl" the author's heroine has been brought up with all the care which wealth could give. In both cases, however, when brought face to face with sorrow and hardships, the girls rise to meet them. Both are pictures of every-day life, and are strong and interesting.

In "Polly's Predicament," which is the author's latest, her characters are picturesque and strongly drawn, while the comparison between city and country life is most interesting.

Marion Ames Taggart.

SIX GIRLS AND BOB. A Story of Patty-Pans and Green Fields. Illustrated. 330 pp. Cloth. $1.50.

SIX GIRLS AND THE TEA ROOM. A story. Illustrated. 316 pp. Cloth. $1.50.

SIX GIRLS GROWING OLDER. A story. Illustrated. 331 pp. Cloth. $1.50.

SIX GIRLS AND THE SEVENTH ONE. A story. Illustrated. 358 pp. Cloth. $1.50.

BETTY GASTON — THE SEVENTH GIRL. A story. Fully illustrated. 352 pp. Cloth. $1.50.

SIX GIRLS AND BETTY. A story. Illustrated. 320 pp. Cloth. $1.50.

"Six Girls and Bob" might better be called one of city and country life, as the patty-pans represent the flat in which the Scollard family — consisting of six girls, Bob, and their mother — lived in New York; while the green fields draw one's attention to the country life which this family ultimately took up with great profit to them all.

The Interior, in its review of Miss Taggart's "Six Girls and The Tea Room," said, "It really seems as though dear Miss Alcott has returned when one reads such a delightful story of happy home life as Miss Taggart has written in this volume."

Several of the characters in "Six Girls Growing Older" have already become known and loved in the two preceding volumes, and they are but carried farther in their development.

The "Seventh Girl" is Marjorie's own little daughter, and she proves a happy addition to the original six.

"Six Girls and Betty" still carries out the ideas of unselfish love and devotion, as the basis of happy home life, as shown in the former books of the series.

Amy E. Blanchard.

A GENTLE PIONEER. Being the story of the early days in the new West. Illustrated. 339 pp. Cloth. $1.50.

BONNY LESLEY OF THE BORDER. A story. Illustrated. 331 pp. Cloth. $1.50.

A FRONTIER KNIGHT. A story of early Texan border life. Illustrated. 339 pp. Cloth. $1.50.

In these stories of pioneer life the author has tried to show the important part played by the women who went forth with husband and father to endure the privations and share the adventures of frontier life.
The simple every-day life of the border, the makeshifts resorted to, the primitive amusements, with enough reference to Indian warfare to allow the existence of this horror to be understood—these have all been used as material for romances that show both the practical and the picturesque sides of life in the new settlements.

A CHILD'S STORY OF THE LIFE OF CHRIST.

As the title indicates, this is a story of Christ's life from the annunciation to the ascension, adapted to a child's understanding and presented in an interesting story form. The text is presented in a simple and interesting style which will make this volume at once popular and valuable. The aim has been to tell the story so simply that the youngest child can enjoy it because he can understand it; and the one hundred and thirty-seven illustrations, in themselves a story, complete the task.

"In Wild Africa" is a fascinating and instructive story, and we cheerfully commend the book to parents and teachers who have the responsibility of choosing the reading for young readers. — Telescope.

"The Land of the Kangaroo" is the last literary work upon which the late Col. Thos. W. Knox was engaged. The author's books are a prime favorite with boy readers, and this last volume is one of his best. — Post Express.

There is a good deal of solid instruction, relieved by plenty of incidents sometimes almost rising to the dignity of adventure, in "Over the Andes," by Hezekiah Butterworth, who has been a prolific purveyor for books of travel for the young. — Springfield Republican.

In "Lost in Nicaragua" Mr. Butterworth, with his master-hand, most delightfully mingles Aztec legends with up-to-date information about the canal. It makes a most acceptable book for boys and girls. — Journal.

Eva Madden.

THE LITTLE QUEEN. Illustrated. 240 pp. Cloth. $1.00.

THE SOLDIERS OF THE DUKE. Illustrated. 279 pp. Cloth. $1.25.

"The Little Queen" is a tender, touching little story of child life. The time is a romantic period in the history of France and England, and the heroine is a little princess—a real, not a fairy princess.

Like the author's previous story, "The Soldiers of the Duke" is a peculiarly happy picture of child life as it appears in the royal home.

Mary Knight Potter.

HOW RICHARD WON OUT. Illustrated. 225 pp. Cloth. $ .75.

RICHARD IN CAMP. Illustrated. 192 pp. Cloth. $ .75.

"How Richard Won Out" is the story of a little lame boy who, with his cousin Rosamond, battled with many children's problems, but through perseverance and natural instincts "Won Out." It is a beautiful story of child nature.

"Richard in Camp" is about wholesome, out-of-door life, filled with varying experiences and adventures, but such as the average healthy boy and girl would naturally enjoy. Insight into both city life and country camp life is introduced, making the little volume attractive, interesting, and helpful to its readers.

James Newton Baskett.

SWEETBRIER AND THISTLEDOWN. A story. With colored illustration. 340 pp. Cloth. $1.50.

This is an exceedingly interesting story by the author of "At You-All's House." Its characters are the most pleasing which have been woven into modern fiction. Throughout the entire book the author has introduced many bits of nature study which add much to the interest and value of the book.

Elsie, the heroine in the story, is taken by her mother from the city to the Missouri farm of Shan McBride, that she may learn from this gentle but strong man, to whom nature reveals her secrets, that plain and homely living may outwardly embody worth, nobility, and intelligence.

Charlotte M. Vaile.

THE ORCUTT GIRLS. (New edition.) Or, one term at the academy. Illustrated. 316 pp. Cloth. $1.50.

SUE ORCUTT. (New edition.) A sequel to "The Orcutt Girls." Illustrated. 335 pp. Cloth. $1.50.

WHEAT AND HUCKLEBERRIES. Or, Dr. Northmore's Daughters. Illustrated. 336 pp. Cloth. $1.50.

THE M. M. C. A story of the great Rockies. Illustrated. 232 pp. Cloth. $1.00.

Mrs. Vaile is evidently very familiar with the old academic system of instruction, for in "The Orcutt Girls" and "Sue Orcutt" she has told a story which will become famous as a description of a phase of old New England educational history which has now become a thing of the past. — Transcript.

"Orcutt Girls" and "Sue Orcutt" are exceptionally good school stories for girls, and depict that old academic life which used to be so great a feature in the life of New England. — Springfield Republican.

"Wheat and Huckleberries" is a story of two girls born and brought up in the rich farm regions of the Middle West who spend their summers in the New England home of their grandfather. The author has woven into the narrative the various peculiarities of both sections of the country. The story is exceptionally bright and spirited. — The Dial.

"The M. M. C." is a story of our own great land of the far-away West,—the region of great mines. It is sure to be welcomed by the boys. — Journal.

James Otis.

WITH PERRY ON LAKE ERIE. A tale of 1812. Illustrated. 307 pp. Cloth. $1.50.

WITH PREBLE AT TRIPOLI. A story of "Old Ironsides" and the Tripolitan War. Illustrated. 349 pp. Cloth. $1.50.

WITH RODGERS ON THE "PRESIDENT." The story of the cruise wherein the flagship fired the first hostile shot in the war with Great Britain for the rights of American seamen. Illustrated. 348 pp. Cloth. $1.50.

Never has James Otis struck a more interesting vein than that which runs through the volumes constituting the "Great Admiral Series." Along this line the author is certainly at his best, and each succeeding volume seems more interesting and better than its predecessor.

WITH THE FLAG IN PANAMA. A story of the building of the Panama Canal. By Hugh C. Weir. Fully illustrated. 356 pp. Cloth. $1.50.

It is a story based upon actual working out of great engineering problems in the construction of the Panama Canal and gives an idea to boys as to the size of the undertaking and the methods used to accomplish its construction.
This is a timely story, full of adventure, but still conveying an accurate idea of the work of building the great Panama Canal. Few appreciate what the building of this canal really means, but from the author's own experience he has drawn the facts so as to give a pretty good idea of just what is really going on.
Starting at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology on what he believed to be a technical engineering career, the young hero finds himself forced to abandon it and take up the practical side of his profession. His adventures and the hardships through which he passed, the success which he met with, all have their places in what will be called one of the best stories for boys which has been issued this year.

REELS AND SPINDLES. A story of mill life. Illustrated. 369 pp. Cloth. $1.50.

The latest story by Evelyn Raymond, who writes nearly, if not quite, the most charming stories for girls, is called "A Daughter of the West," and has to do with a girl whose home is on one of the great ranches of California. The book is hard to put down when once you have taken it up, as the story is wholesome, vivacious, and inspiring. — Herald.

The character of the heroine in "Reels and Spindles" is unusually strong, and when through force of circumstances she is thrown on her own resources, she takes up the struggle with a definiteness and setness of purpose that is inspiring. Frances Margaret Fox.

WHAT GLADYS SAW. A nature story of farm and forest. Illustrated. 318 pp. Cloth. $1.25.

THE RAINBOW BRIDGE. A story. Illustrated. 254 pp. Cloth. $1.25.

These two stories by Miss Fox are widely different in character, yet they both display the author's ability to picture children with great naturalness.

Primarily, "What Gladys Saw" is a nature story containing a wealth of nature study such as the author is well known to have at her command. Still, this does not prevent the weaving in of a story about people that young readers will find particularly interesting, and which will aid in commending the book to them at once.

It is not the intention to treat nature in any scientific way; but the author strives to present it in the varied and rich forms in which it is naturally found on any well-conducted farm.

"The Rainbow Bridge" is a beautiful story of child life, and first introduces the reader into the Little Pilgrims' Home where Marian Lee was sent when but a wee little one.

The author vividly describes the life at the home; how one by one the children were adopted, and how Marian Lee finally was discovered by an aunt and taken to her Michigan home.

Anna Pierpont Siviter.

NEHE. A tale of the time of Artaxerxes. Illustrated. 318 pp. Cloth. $1.50.

The Journal says of the "Son of the Revolution": "No one incident in the history of our country as a nation is so full of the picturesque as the wild scheme of treason which stirred the soul of Aaron Burr to plot against the country he had struggled to establish."

"The Godson of Lafayette" takes the hero through many adventures in all the stages of partisanship to the final awakening of the real disloyalty of Williams and his impossible schemes. — North American.

H. Phelps Whitmarsh.

Eleanor H. Porter.

CROSS CURRENTS. The story of Margaret. Illustrated. 205 pp. Cloth. $1.00.

THE TURN OF THE TIDE. The story of how Margaret solved her problem. Illustrated. 306 pp. Price, $1.25.

"Cross Currents" is one of the sweetest bits of fiction which has been written for a long time, and one which will be enjoyed by young and old alike. In the life of Margaret is exemplified what heredity will and can do. Reared in luxury, she suddenly finds herself placed in the environment of New York's slums. Her life among the sweat-shops and on the streets is a true portrayal of that side of our American life.

The picture of the girl's life as portrayed in "Cross Currents" and in "The Turn of the Tide" will startle many a reader who has never appreciated that such conditions could possibly exist, and it will bring to all a wish that they, in some humble way, could "do something."

"In the Mikado's Service" takes up the causes and results of the Chino-Japanese War, showing to what an extent American civilization has entered into Japan. The author has treated the entire subject in story form, and made not only a delightful book, but one which is so authentic as to be of great value at this period.—New York Times.

Blanche M. Channing.

THE BALASTER BOYS. A story. Illustrated. Cloth. 294 pp. $1.25.

The story is based upon the home life of a professor's family, which contains three wide-awake boys. Into this group comes a girl cousin to spend her summer vacation. Being left an orphan, the little girl has been given the privilege of choosing where she would prefer to live, whether with her great-aunt (a spinster) or with her mother's sister, the wife of the good professor.

Throughout the neighborhood the boys of this family have always been looked upon as almost ungovernable, but as time goes on, after the little girl has made her choice of taking up her home with them, her good influence is at once made manifest in the conduct of the boys. It is a volume full of good influences, and the wealth of originality it contains will aid materially in making the book exceedingly popular.

The Boston Journal says of "When Boston Braved the King": "It is a pleasure to read and recommend such a book as this. Certainly no author of popular, useful, and commendable literature ever begun his career more auspiciously."

The scenes of the "Prairie Schooner" are laid in and around Chicago about the year of 1831, and the story concerning the Black Hawk War is correct in its historical data. The author's knowledge of this locality in those days aids him in throwing an introspecting light on the early history of Chicago. — Post.

Blessed is the writer who has happily coupled historical truth with an interesting story, as has Charles Ledyard Norton in "The Queen's Rangers." Three young patriots, stranded in New York during General Howe's occupation, band themselves together and agree that the best way to serve the colonies for the present is to enlist under the British flag. Then begins a series of stirring exploits which does not end until they all regain their true allegiance after the Battle of Brandywine. It is a book which young lovers of history will prize. — World.

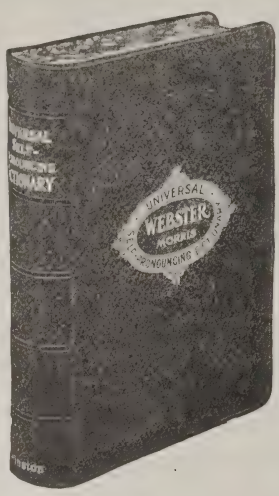
THE NEW UNIVERSAL SELF-PRONOUNCING DICTIONARY



French Morocco Binding

Absolutely Flexible

Reinforced in all necessary parts to add to strength and durability. Title stamped in gold on side and back marbled edges. Patent Thumb Alphabetical Index.

Size, 5½ x 8½ inches.

Based upon the solid foundation laid by NOAH WEBSTER, and other Lexicographers, thoroughly modernized by CHARLES MORRIS.

Entirely new and down to date. The most complete and modern hand dictionary published. 1000 pages. In convenience of size, fullness of contents and logical arrangement it is especially adapted to every-day use for the business man, teacher, student and the home.

Among the noteworthy improvements are the following:

It Contains All the Words in the English language in ordinary use, including the many new words that have recently come into use. The definitions are accurate and reliable and embrace all distinctions and shades of meaning.

Words Divided into Syllables. Each index word is divided into syllables in the manner employed by the best writers.

The Proper Use of Capital and Small Letters is clearly indicated. Proper nouns begin with capital letters, common nouns begin with small letters.

The Pronunciation of Each Word is shown by a clear and properly accented system of phonetic spelling.

The Synonyms and Antonyms are given with the words themselves following the definitions instead of the usual but less convenient method of placing them in a separate list in the appendix.

Each Word and Its Derivatives are separately indexed instead of the suffix words and prefix words being crowded in with the definitions, an expedient used to save space, but with a loss of clearness and utility.

Many Other Necessary Features Useful in Home, School and Office, including Rules for Pronunciation; Dictionary of Prefixes and Suffixes; of Terms used in Business and Law; of Names of Men and Women; of Mythological and Classical Names; of Forms of Address; of Popular Titles of Cities and States; of Important Persons, Places, Monuments; of Foreign Words and Phrases, Colloquialisms, Quotations and Significant Words and Phrases frequently met with in Literature; and a Dictionary of Words adopted by the Simplified Spelling Board; Maps of the World and of the United States in Colors; Flags of All Nations in Colors.

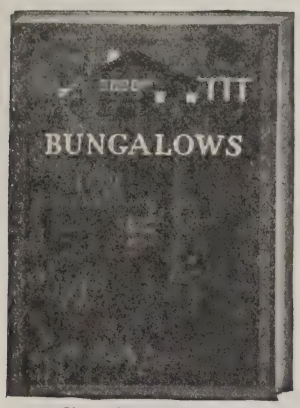
Bungalows

By Henry H. Saylor

¶ This work successfully deals with the most popular American style of informal house—the bungalow. From a practical standpoint former publications of this character have failed in the attempt to give the needed information. This work discusses the whole subject in a most practical and helpful manner. It tells



Size 7½ x 10¼ inches

¶ What a Bungalow really is—a thing that is very much misunderstood.
Where the style originated.
How it has been applied to American needs, particularly for summer homes, camps, mountain shacks, and various other types.

¶ It also thoroughly covers and illustrates by plans and photographs of successful attractive bungalows the matters of planning and building materials.

¶ The interior finish is another branch of the subject that is taken up, together with schemes for furnishing that are in harmony with the informal and comfortable character of the building. Water supply and drainage are other essential points fully discussed and necessary to the completion of a successful bungalow. Another most important feature fully discussed in this volume is the fire-place.

¶ The volume is profusely illustrated with plans and photographs of bungalows that have been actually built. There are no mere drawings or visionary schemes in it.

Size 7½ x 10¼ inches. Bound in Art Linen with appropriate cover design.

Over 200 pages. Lavishly Illustrated. Price, $1.50 Net

Home Vegetable Gardening

By F. F. Rockwell

¶ Books of this kind usually treat the subject in an encyclopedic way, telling what vegetables there are and what pests are likely to attack them, and so on, giving far too much information of this kind and not enough for the man who wants to establish a vegetable garden on his suburban lot for family use.

Size 5¼ x 7¾ inches

¶ Mr. Rockwell, the author of this work, is a practical gardener himself. From long experience he realizes just what the average layman wants to know in order to raise a successful and varied crop. He realizes also that this information must be presented in a logical sequence in order that it may be used to the best advantage.

HERE IS A CONCISE BOOK ON HOME VEGETABLE GARDENING THAT ALSO INCLUDES THE GROWING OF BERRIES AND FRUIT.

IT TELLS:

1. How much space is necessary for a family of a given size.
2. How to divide the space in the proper proportions for the various vegetables and trees.
3. What varieties have been tried and found true.
4. How to plant, cultivate, spray, fertilize, and finally bring the crop to fruition.

It is illustrated with pictures of the very practical "how to" kind, which are an inspiration in themselves. Bound in uniform style with "The Garden Primer," size 5¼ x 7¾ inches, but contains many more pages.

Over 300 pages. 64 pages Illustrations. Price, $1.00 Net

New Practical "House and Garden" Books

"Best of Their Kind"

¶ In the preparation of the books described in these pages, the first consideration has been to give practical and dependable information, free from technical terms.

¶ These books will be found to be more lavishly illustrated than similar books sold at the same prices. This is made possible by the wealth of material that the Editors have access to through the publication of "House and Garden."

¶ The descriptions of the volumes give an accurate idea of their value and utility, and the high reputation of the editors should in itself be sufficient warrant for the general opinion that they are the "best books of their kind."

The Landscape Gardening Book

By Grace Tabor

¶ There have been many books published within the past few years on gardening, but most of these have dealt with the cultural side exclusively—telling what flowers are attractive and how to grow them or how to succeed with the most popular vegetables. The larger subject embracing the whole setting of the country or suburban home, PARTICULARLY ONE OF MODERATE SIZE, has apparently been ignored. No matter how successful a flower garden may be, nor how fruitful the vegetable patch, if these and the trees and shrubs are not thoughtfully and carefully disposed in relation to the house and the site itself, the home as a whole will fall short of success. The author of THE LANDSCAPE GARDENING BOOK, Miss Grace Tabor, who is a well known landscape architect, has written the one book that clears up the whole difficult problem of making a house seem at home in its site. The subjects covered are merely indicated by the chapter headings:

Size 7½ x 10¼ inches

Utilizing Natural Features in Garden Making
Formal or Informal Gardens
Getting into a Place (walks, drives, etc.)
Entrances and Gateways
Blending Architecture and Nature by Planting
Screening, Revealing and Emphasizing Objects and Views
Boundary Lines and Boundary Planting
Planting Deciduous Trees
Planting Evergreens
Planting Shrubs
Planting Flowers
The Garden in Winter
The Vegetable Garden
The Garden Buildings
Garden Furniture and Accessories
General Planting Directions

¶ In addition to a presentation of the fundamental principles involved in laying out the home grounds, Miss Tabor has given lists of plants and cultural directions covering the whole practical side of the subject. In short, this is the one essential book for the man who would have his home—house and grounds—something more than a mere building set on the earth.

¶ The book is 7½ x 10¼ inches, bound in dark blue cloth, stamped in gold and with a garden in full color in the design. The illustrations are superb half-tone reproductions from representative gardens and homes, together with practical diagrams and planting plans.

Over 300 pages. 128 Illustrations. Price, $2.00 Net

All the desirable architectural styles are represented: Colonial, English Half-timber Stucco, Cement, Dutch Colonial (the gambrel roof type), Swiss Chalet, etc. Chapters written by authorities cover all sides of the fascinating problem of house-building, interior decoration and furnishing. The "Dwig" Series

The sales of the original editions of these "Mirth Provoking Humorous" Books have already reached enormous proportions. We now offer the entire list, in New Low-Priced Editions. "WANTS," which is the latest addition to the series will be found particularly amusing. The Author has seized upon the ambiguous meanings of Newspaper Want advertisements, and turned them to a delightful humorous effect by drawing one of his inimitable sketches around each advertisement to illustrate the meaning which he gathers from the clipping.

Texts of the several books by L. DeV. Matthewman, S. S. Stinson and others.

A BOOK NOVELTY FOR EASTER, CHRISTMAS AND OTHER HOLIDAY SEASONS

This new series comprises a variety of literary, artistic, poetic and useful books. Attractive autograph and greeting card supplied loose with each volume, thus giving all the advantages of the usual season greeting cards, with the added charm of novelty.

Each Holiday season brings with it a demand for something new and novel to take the place of the old-fashioned card which passes from friend to friend and home to home throughout the English-speaking world. A library of these little volumes would be a delightful memento of Holidays gone and past, and a permanent reminder of the friends from whom they came. Printed on an extra quality of paper.

THE READERS' LIBRARY

OF

Illustrated Handy Pocket Editions

OF

STANDARD AUTHORS

The design of the Readers' Library is to make it possible, by the convenient form in which these volumes are prepared, for any one to read the best works by Standard Authors. These volumes are of such size and weight that they can be conveniently carried in the pocket or thrown into a hand-bag, and thereby moments that might be wasted can be turned into pleasure and profit by reading the best works of the world's best authors.

THE FOLLOWING INDISPUTABLE FACTS are claimed for the Readers' Library:

1. The type is as large and as clear as the type used in the usual large volumes of Standard Authors.
2. Unabridged. Each work is complete in one volume.
3. The Illustrations are an important feature. Each volume contains from eight to sixteen beautiful illustrations. These illustrations are not the rehashed old-fashioned pictures usually found in standard works but are new and drawn by prominent artists and interpret the stories with great fidelity.
4. The paper is strong and opaque. In the volumes with a great number of pages imported Bible paper is used. This paper is far superior to India paper because it makes the print clearer and blacker, and the discouraging difficulty of turning the leaves of an India paper book is entirely eliminated.
5. The Binding. The volumes are bound uniformly in flexible leather, with gold stamping on back, and each volume has the author's autograph signature stamped in gold on the side of the book; they have gilt tops and ribbon markers.
6. For the bookcase. The small size of the volumes, the rich binding, the desirable titles, all insure these books a welcome in every library.

The "Ranch Girls'" Series

About the Author of the "Ranch Girls'" Series

Margaret Vandercook is a native of Louisville, Ky member of the now famous "Authors' Club" of that city, which numbers such writers as Alice Hegan Rice, of "Mrs. Wiggs" fame, and George Madden Martin, author of "Emmy Lou."

Mrs. Vandercook has contributed poems, articles and short stories to the current magazines here and in England. One of her best short stories recently appeared in Harper's Bazaar, and was called "The Camel's Back." She is also the author of a novelette entitled "The Better Way."

But in the writing of books for girls, Mrs. Vandercook has found her chief interest. Mrs. Vandercook believes that the modern girl is being neglected by most story writers. The larger number of authors for young people devote their talents to writing for boys, so that girls are often compelled to read boys' books or to slip their mother's grown-up novel off her reading desk. The modern girl wants a ghtly different story from the old one. She lives in a land where her opportunities are leveloping every day. She wants FIRE, VIM, and a chance to show she can do things in her tories, as well as have fun and frolics. She wants the outdoors and plenty of real experiences, d Mrs. Vandercook aims to produce just such stories for the up-to-date American girl.

THE "FLYING BOYS'" SERIES

By Edward S. Ellis

Author of the Renowned "Deerfoot" Books, and over 100 other famous volumes for young people

During his trip abroad last summer, Mr. Ellis became intensely interested in aeroplane and airship flying in France, and this new series from his pen is the visible result of what he would call a "vacation." He has made a study of the science and art of aeronautics, and these books will give boys just the information they want about this marvelous triumph of man. It goes without saying that these stories will be full of dash and adventure and will be welcomed by thousands of his enthusiastic admirers throughout the country. The very low price at which these new Ellis books are sold is not the least of their attractions. Printed on an excellent quality of paper, and illustrated. New and appropriate cover design. 12mo. EDWARD S. ELLIS

Author of The "Flying Boys'" Series and many other Popular Books for Boys and Girls, described on other pages of this catalog.

The Author of The "Flying Boys'" Series

No one understands boy nature better than Edward S. Ellis, of whom it has been said that he will be a boy if he lives to be a hundred years old.

Mr. Ellis began writing at an early age and his work was acceptable from the first. After a successful career as teacher, principal, trustee and superintendent of schools, he gave his entire attention to literature, and for his literary attainments the degree of Master of Arts was conferred upon him by Princeton College.

The high moral character, the clean manly tendencies, and the admirable literary style of Mr. Ellis's stories have made him as popular on the other side of the Atlantic as in his own country. Critics uniformly agree that no parent need hesitate to place in the hands of his boy or girl any book written by Mr. Ellis. This cannot be said of the works of many of the present day authors of juvenile literature. As may well be believed, his books are in wide demand by young readers and do much good by their sound wholesome lessons, which render them as acceptable to parents as to their children. All of Mr. Ellis's books are re-issued in London, and many have been translated into other languages.

The "Flying Boys'" Series is described at the top of this page and is Mr. Ellis's latest contribution. For Lists of his other titles see Pages 62, 66, 67 and 74, of this Catalog.

We are enabled to offer for the first time, this series of low-priced books, which have heretofore been published only in editions at double the price. THEY ARE ALL COPYRIGHT TITLES, AND WILL NOT BE FOUND IN ANY OTHER PUBLISHER'S LIST. STORIES DEALING WITH PIONEER LIFE will always have an attraction for the young; and although the conditions are idealized and the dangers forgotten in the glamour and picturesqueness which are thrown around them, yet it is better when they are presented in the form which Mr. Ellis gives to them than in an ultra-sensational and often harmful shape.

THE VOLUMES IN THIS SERIES COMPRISE SOME OF THE BEST WRITINGS OF THIS POPULAR AUTHOR.

Child's Story of America. By Charles Morris. Containing a complete story of the three centuries of American history from the discovery of the new world by Columbus in 1492, down to the present day, written in a simple, story-telling style as delightful as the narrative is instructive to both children and parents.

Child's Story of the Nations. By Charles Morris. All the imagination of the fairy tale teller could not have invented the romance which really lives in every one of the past 100 years. Railroads, telegraphs, telephones, postal systems, and the great machinery of to-day were unknown a hundred years ago. Undiscovered continents have been explored and great wars fought; empires have been founded, and poor boys have grown richer than kings. All told in easy language.

Child's Story of The Gospel. By Rev. Ingram Cobbin, D.D. Parents want their children to love and read the New Testament, and this book makes them understand and love it.

Children five and six years old can understand it, and will listen with eagerness to the beautiful, simple language. Everything is explained, just as a wise and loving father or mother would like to explain it to their children, or a devoted Sunday-school teacher would desire to present it to her class. Children will read it from beginning to end with delight and profit.

History of Animals. By Frederick Lonnkvist, Ph.D. This is an up-to-date book written especially for children in language which they will easily understand and is both instructive and entertaining.

Illustrations on almost every page, with explanations written under each, will both entertain the child and create in him a desire to read all the story.

Historical Stories of American Pioneer Life. By James Fenimore Cooper. The Leather Stocking Tales have been taken by the world-renowned writer for young people in America, and adapted to younger readers. All the descriptions of actual scenes are preserved in Cooper's own matchless language; but the long and tedious details leading up to a climax have been abridged and simplified.

Lives of the Presidents. By Charles Morris. THE BOYS WHO BECAME PRESIDENTS—These stories cover the whole period of American history from the first President, Washington, whose life includes the story of the Revolutionary War, to the one who now so ably fills the President's office. The special features are the boyhood days, home life and surroundings which contributed to the success of each boy who afterward became President. Dry facts are left to history books.

Mother Goose and Fairyland. A superb collection of most popular stories, rhymes and fairy tales for children. Illustrated on every page with drawings by Walter Crane, Louis Wain and other noted artists of America and England.

Pilgrim's Progress. In words of one syllable. By John Bunyan. We have put Bunyan's Pilgrim's Progress into easy, simple words to suit children who easily understand the beautiful and instructive story when told to them at their mother's knee, but cannot read the "big words" or understand some expressions not now in common use. We have also set the book in extra large type.

Story of the Bible. By Rev. Jesse Lyman Hurlbut, D.D. Giving in easy story form the principal facts of the Bible, the lives and adventures of its heroes, with the most remarkable and interesting scenes in its history. Collected and retold in simple Bible language for children. Every chapter has a title line to interest and hold attention. The father and mother may tell the stories, or the children may read them.

The saints' resurrection. 1 CORINTHIANS. 16. The manner of it.

25 For he must reign, till he hath put all enemies under his feet.
26 The last enemy that shall be destroyed is death.
27 For he hath put all things under his feet. But when he saith, All things are put under him, it is manifest that he is excepted which did put all things under him.
28 And when all things shall be subdued unto him, then shall the Son also himself be subject unto him that put all things under him, that God may be all in all.
29 Else what shall they do which are baptized for the dead, if the dead rise not at all? why are they then baptized for the dead?
30 And why stand we in jeopardy every hour?
31 I protest by your rejoicing which I have in Christ Jesus our Lord, I die daily.
32 If after the manner of men I have fought with beasts at Ephesus, what advantageth it me, if the dead rise not? let us eat and drink; for to-morrow we die.
33 Be not deceived: evil communications corrupt good manners.
34 Awake to righteousness, and sin not; for some have not the knowledge of God: I speak this to your shame.
35 But some man will say, How are the dead raised up? and with what body do they come?
36 Thou fool, that which thou sowest is not quickened, except it die.
37 And that which thou sowest, thou sowest not that body that shall be, but bare grain, it may chance of wheat, or of some other grain:
38 But God giveth it a body as it hath pleased him, and to every seed his own body.
39 All flesh is not the same flesh: but there is one kind of flesh of men, another flesh of beasts, another of fishes, and another of birds.
40 There are also celestial bodies, and bodies terrestrial: but the glory of the celestial is one, and the glory of the terrestrial is another.
41 There is one glory of the sun, and another glory of the moon, and another glory of the stars: for one star differeth from another star in glory.
42 So also is the resurrection of the dead. It is sown in corruption; it is raised in incorruption:
43 It is sown in dishonour; it is raised in glory: it is sown in weakness; it is raised in power:
44 It is sown a natural body; it is raised a spiritual body. There is a natural body, and there is a spiritual body.
45 And so it is written, The first man Adam was made a living soul; the last Adam was made a quickening spirit.
46 Howbeit that was not first which is spiritual, but that which is natural; and afterward that which is spiritual.
47 The first man is of the earth, earthy: the second man is the Lord from heaven.
48 As is the earthy, such are they also that are earthy: and as is the heavenly, such are they also that are heavenly.
49 And as we have borne the image of the earthy, we shall also bear the image of the heavenly.
50 Now this I say, brethren, that flesh and blood cannot inherit the kingdom of God; neither doth corruption inherit incorruption.
51 Behold, I show you a mystery; We shall not all sleep, but we shall all be changed,
52 In a moment, in the twinkling of an eye, at the last trump: for the trumpet shall sound, and the dead shall be raised incorruptible, and we shall be changed.
53 For this corruptible must put on incorruption, and this mortal must put on immortality.
54 So when this corruptible shall have put on incorruption, and this mortal shall have put on immortality, then shall be brought to pass the saying that is written, Death is swallowed up in victory.
55 O death, where is thy sting? O grave, where is thy victory?
56 The sting of death is sin; and the strength of sin is the law.
57 But thanks be to God, which giveth us the victory through our Lord Jesus Christ.
58 Therefore, my beloved brethren, be ye stedfast, unmoveable, always abounding in the work of the Lord, forasmuch as ye know that your labour is not in vain in the Lord.

CHAPTER 16.

1 How to proceed for the relief of the brethren. 13 Admonitions, 19 and salutations.

NOW concerning the collection for the saints, as I have given order to the churches of Galatia, even so do ye.
2 Upon the first day of the week let every one of you lay by him in store, as God hath prospered him, that there be no gatherings when I come.
3 And when I come, whomsoever ye shall approve by your letters, them will I send to bring your liberality unto Jerusalem.
4 And if it be meet that I go also, they shall go with me.
5 Now I will come unto you, when I shall pass through Macedonia: for I do pass through Macedonia.
6 And it may be that I will abide, yea, and winter with you, that ye may bring me on my journey whithersoever I go.
7 For I will not see you now by the way; but I trust to tarry a while with you, if the Lord permit.
8 But I will tarry at Ephesus until Pentecost.
9 For a great door and effectual is opened unto me, and there are many adversaries.
10 Now if Timotheus come, see that he may be with you without fear: for he worketh the work of the Lord, as I also do.
11 Let no man therefore despise him: but conduct him forth in peace, that he may come unto me: for I look for him with the brethren.
12 As touching our brother Apollos, I greatly desire him to come unto you with the brethren: but his will was not at all to come at this time; but he will come when he shall have convenient time.
13 Watch ye, stand fast in the faith, quit you like men, be strong.

12 And Mō'ṣeṣ spake before the LORD, saying, Behold, the children of Iṣ'ra-el have not hearkened unto me; how then shall Phā'raōh hear me, who am of uncircumcised lips?

13 And the LORD spake unto Mō'ṣeṣ and unto Aär'on, and gave them a charge unto the children of Iṣ'ra-el, and unto Phā'raōh king of Ē'gўpt, to bring the children of Iṣ'ra-el out of the land of Ē'gўpt.

14 ¶ These be the heads of their fathers' houses: The sons of Reu'ben the firstborn of Iṣ'ra-el; Hā'nōch, and Pāl'lu, Hēz'rōn, and Cär'mi: these be the families of Reu'ben.

15 And the sons of Sim'e-on; Jē-mū'el, and Jā'min, and ō'hăd, and Jā'chin, and Zō'här, and Shā'ul the son of a Cā'nāan-īt-ish woman: these are the families of Sim'e-on.

16 And these are the names of the sons of Lē'vī according to their generations; gēr'shŏn, and Kō'hăth, and Mē-rā'rī: and the years of the life of Lē'vī were an hundred thirty and seven years.

17 The sons of gēr'shŏn; Lĭb'nī, and Shĭ'mī, according to their families.

18 And the sons of Kō'hăth; Am'răm, and Iz'här, and Hē'bron, and ŭz'zi-el: and the years of the life of Kō'hăth were an hundred thirty and three years.

19 And the sons of Mē-rā'rī; Mā'hers of the Lē'vītes according to their families.

26 These are that Aär'on and Mō'ṣeṣ, to whom the LORD said, Bring out the children of Iṣ'ra-el from the land of Ē'gўpt according to their armies.

27 These are they which spake to Phā'raōh king of Ē'gўpt, to bring out the children of Iṣ'ra-el from Ē'gўpt: these are that Mō'ṣeṣ and Aär'on.

28 ¶ And it came to pass on the day when the LORD spake unto Mō'ṣeṣ in the land of Ē'gўpt,

29 That the LORD spake unto Mō'ṣeṣ, saying, I am the LORD: speak thou unto Phā'raōh king of Ē'gўpt all that I say unto thee.

30 And Mō'ṣeṣ said before the LORD, Behold, I am of uncircumcised lips, and how shall Phā'raōh hearken unto me?

Of prayer. MATTHEW, VII. Of godly contentment.

10 Thy kingdom come. Thy will be done in earth, as it is in heaven.
11 Give us this day our daily bread.
12 And forgive us our debts, as we forgive our debtors.
13 And lead us not into temptation, but deliver us from evil: For thine is the kingdom, and the power, and the glory, for ever. Amen.
14 For if ye forgive men their trespasses, your heavenly Father will also forgive you:
15 But if ye forgive not men their trespasses, neither will your Father forgive your trespasses.

no thought for your life, what ye shall eat, or what ye shall drink; nor yet for your body, what ye shall put on. Is not the life more than meat, and the body than raiment?
26 Behold the fowls of the air: for they sow not, neither do they reap, nor gather into barns; yet your heavenly Father feedeth them. Are ye not much better than they?
27 Which of you, by taking thought, can add one cubit unto his stature?
28 And why take ye thought for raiment? Consider the lilies of the field, how they grow: they toil not, neither do they spin:
29 And yet I say unto you, That even Solomon in all his glory was not arrayed like one of these.
30 Wherefore, if God so clothe the grass of the field, which to-day is, and silver, and the fourth part of a cab of dove's dung for five pieces of silver.

26 And as the king of Israel was passing by upon the wall, there cried a woman unto him, saying, Help, my lord, O king.

27 And he said, If the LORD do not help thee, whence shall I help thee? out of the barnfloor, or out of the winepress?

28 And the king said unto her, What aileth thee? And she answered, This woman said unto me, Give thy son, that we may eat him to day, and we will eat my son to morrow

29 So we boiled my son, and did eat him: and I said unto her on the next day, Give thy son, that we may eat him: and she hath hid her son.

30 ¶ And it came to pass, when the king heard the words of the woman, that he rent his clothes; and he passed by upon the wall, and the people looked, and, behold, he had sackcloth within upon his flesh.

and their asses, even the camp as it was, and fled for their life.

8 And when these lepers came to the uttermost part of the camp, they went into one tent, and did eat and drink, and carried thence silver, and gold, and raiment, and went and hid it, and came again, and entered into another tent, and carried thence also, and went and hid it.

9 Then they said one to another, We do not well: this day is a day of good tidings, and we hold our peace: if we tarry till the morning light, some mischief will come upon us: now therefore come, that we may go and tell the king's household.

10 So they came and called unto the porter of the city: and they told them, saying, We came to the camp of the Syrians, and, behold, there was no man there, neither voice of man, but horses tied, and asses tied, and the tents as they were.

All Under One Alphabetical Arrangement
Prepared in Simple Language and Printed from Bold Face Type

It is confidently believed that this Teachers' Handy Bible Encyclopedia will be found to contain more practical aid to the students and teachers than the helps found in other Teachers' Bible. The experience of recent years has brought much additional light upon many subjects of Biblical knowledge, has shown that the plan of Bible Aids could be improved, and has also revealed a need among teachers, ministers, and Bible readers for a more popular handbook with the information written in language free from the technicalities of scholars. This work of simplifying was assigned to Rev. Jesse Lyman Hurlbut, D. D., widely known as a Biblical scholar and as a TEACHER OF TEACHERS in the Sunday-school. Some of the improvements in this work over other Bible commentaries are noteworthy. (See full description on next page.)

WHAT IS INDIA BIBLE PAPER? "A thin, soft, absorbent paper, usually of a pale buff tint, made in China and Japan, and imitated in Europe and the United States, where it is used for the first or finest impressions of engravings, called India Proofs."—Century Dictionary,

"INTERNATIONAL" India Paper is much more. It is not an imitation but an original paper made for "International" Bibles. It has superior strength and is of such marvelous opacity that the print on one side of the page cannot be seen through on the other side.

"INTERNATIONAL" India Bible paper instead of being of a light buff color, is made in the bright color so much desired by Bible readers.

The saints' resurrection. 1 CORINTHIANS, 16. The manner of it.

25 For he must reign, till he hath put all enemies under his feet.
26 The last enemy that shall be destroyed is death.
27 For he hath put all things under his feet. But when he saith, All things are put under him, it is manifest that he is excepted which did put all things under him.
28 And when all things shall be subdued unto him, then shall the Son also himself be subject unto him that put all things under him, that God may be all in all.
29 Else what shall they do which are baptized for the dead, if the dead rise not at all? why are they then baptized for the dead?
30 And why stand we in jeopardy every the earthy, we shall also bear the image of the heavenly.
50 Now this I say, brethren, that flesh and blood cannot inherit the kingdom of God; neither doth corruption inherit incorruption.
51 Behold, I show you a mystery; We shall not all sleep, but we shall all be changed,
52 In a moment, in the twinkling of an eye, at the last trump: for the trumpet shall sound, and the dead shall be raised incorruptible, and we shall be changed.
53 For this corruptible must put on incorruption, and this mortal must put on immortality.
54 So when this corruptible shall have put on incorruption, and this mortal shall 18 No man hath seen God at any time; the only begotten Son, which is in the bosom of the Father, he hath declared him.

19 ¶ And this is the record of John, when the Jews sent priests and Levites from Jerusalem to ask him, Who art thou?
I saw the Spirit descending from heaven like a dove, and it abode upon him.
33 And I knew him not: but he that sent me to baptize with water, the same said unto me, Upon whom thou shalt see the Spirit descending, and remaining on him, the same is he which baptizeth with the Holy Ghost.
34 And I saw, and bare record that this is the Son of God.

Mā'rў was espoused to Jō'şeph, before they came together, she was found with child of the Hō'lў Ghōst.

19 Then Jō'şeph her husband, being a just man, [o]and not willing to make her a publick example, was minded to put her away privily.

20 But while he thought on these things, behold, the angel of the Lord appeared unto him in a dream, saying, Jō'şeph, thou son of Dā'vid, fear not to take unto thee Mā'rў thy wife: for [p]that which is [2]conceived in her is of the Hō'lў Ghōst.

21 And she shall bring forth a son, and thou shalt call his name [3]JĒ'ŞUS: for he [q]shall save his people from their sins.

The Red Letter Bible is the Bible that emphasizes Christ. The Old Testament, in types and prophecies, prefigured and foretold His coming. Christ, himself, endorsed and set His seal upon the Old Testament by continually referring to it and quoting from it. And He commanded us to "Search the Scriptures," for He said, "they testify of me." But how hard it is for the average reader to take the Bible and read it and know what refers to Christ. To such a reader the Red Letter Bible is a great help and benefit.

In the Red Letter Bible eminent scholars have carefully gone through and marked all those passages that point to Christ and all those passages that Jesus himself quoted. And in this volume all those passages and all the words of Jesus are printed in red ink. That is the story of the Red Letter Bible, which has proved so wonderfully popular.

Christian Worker's Bible

Indexed and marked in both Old and New Testaments according to the best system of Bible marking on the

THEME of SALVATION

CONTAINING

Over 3,000 Selected Texts Marked and arranged in Sequence with an INTRODUCTION by Rev. Jesse Lyman Hurlbut, D.D.

THE EASIEST READING BIBLE

It is believed that no form in which the Scripture has ever been published makes the reading of it so attractive to both old and young, nor are any Commentaries, voluminous and extensive as they may be, to be compared with this simple system of markings and indexing, in explaining and making easy the way of Salvation.

Ministers, Teachers, Y. M. C. A. and Young People's Societies and Parents will find this the most convenient and helpful. Bible for their use. Every page is helpful and leads to further discovery of the greatest truths in God's word.

EXPLANATION OF MARKINGS

THE INDEX, OR KEY directs the reader to the first verse in the Bible on a subject, and, at the close of the first verse on that subject, there is a reference to the next verse on the same subject; so, that (though it may be fifty or one hundred pages away), the reader turns forward rapidly verse to verse, in regular order, until he reads everything in the whole Bible on that subject. Then he turns back, to the index or key, at the beginning, and takes up the next subject in the general plan of Salvation, with the first verse in the Bible on that subject, and reads straight through as before. And, so, one continues until the seventeen subjects, which complete the whole theme of Salvation, shall have been read through. This arrangement will enable anyone to conduct a Bible Reading on any of the following at a moment's notice.

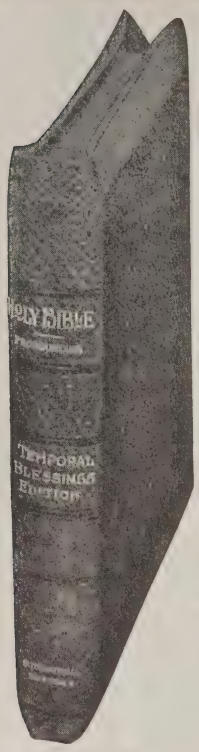
TEMPORAL BLESSINGS BIBLE



Being the Authorized Version of the Scriptures marked by the Best System of Bible Marking on all Subjects connected with the theme of TEMPORAL BLESSINGS

By J. G. LAWSON
Author of Best Methods of Bible Marking

In these days there is an ever-increasing interest in the subject of the Lord's care for His children in temporal things. All of the most spiritually-minded saints, both in Bible times and all down through the centuries of the Christian era, have found much of their joy and blessing through trusting the Lord day by day to direct them, with regard to temporal things as well as spiritual. It is a great joy for a person to have the assurance that his sins are forgiven; but it is the very joy of heaven to feel that God is caring for you and directing you day by day in all the affairs of this life, and that He will supply all your temporal needs as well as your spiritual needs. To thus realize the continuous presence and power of God is indeed the "Christian's Secret of a HappyLife." Christians do not know "the fulness of the blessing of the gospel of Christ" (Romans 15:29), nor find "their heaven on earth begun," until they are brought to see that God cares for them in everything, and are thus led to cast all their care upon Him.

This Bible has been prepared for those desiring to learn the "exceeding great and precious promises" of God with regard to temporal blessings. That He is interested in all our temporal needs is shown from the fact that out of a total of 31,173 verses in the Old Testament, 2,412 verses relate to temporal blessings; and out of a total of 7,959 verses in the New Testament, 1,091 verses relate to temporal blessings. Thus one verse in nine in the Bible concerns temporal blessings. In this Bible all these great promises have been carefully sought out and marked in such a way that the reader will be able to turn rapidly from one verse or passage to another on any subject connected with the theme of TEMPORAL BLESSINGS.

"International" Temporal Blessings Bible

6 And it [g]repented the LORD that he had made man on the earth, and it [h]grieved him at his heart.

L 7 And the LORD said, I will destroy man whom I have created from the face of the earth; [3]both man, and beast, and the creeping thing, and the fowls of the air; for it repenteth me that I have made them.

8 But Nō'ah [i]found grace in the eyes of the LORD. L. verses 17, 18.

9 ¶ These are the generations of Nō'ah: Nō'ah was a just man and [4]perfect in his generations, and Nō'ah walked with God.

10 And Nō'ah begat three sons, Shĕm, Hăm, and Jā'pheth.

11 The earth also was corrupt before God, and the earth was filled with violence.

12 And God looked [5]upon the earth, and, behold, it was corrupt; for all flesh had corrupted his way upon the earth.

13 And God said unto Nō'ah, The [6]end of all flesh is come before me; for the earth is filled with violence through them; and, behold, I will destroy them [l]with the earth.

14 Make thee an ark of gopher wood; [m]rooms shalt thou make in the ark, and shalt pitch it within and without with pitch.

15 And this is the fashion which thou shalt make it of: The length of the ark shall be three hundred cubits, the breadth of it fifty cubits, and the height of it thirty cubits.

16 A window shalt thou make to the ark, and in a cubit shalt thou finish it above; and the door of the ark shalt thou set in the side thereof; with lower, second, and third stories shalt thou make it.

L 17 And, [n]behold, I, even I, do bring a flood of waters upon the earth, to destroy all flesh, wherein is the breath of life, from under heaven; and every thing that is in the earth [o]shall die. S. 7. 1; L. 7. 1.

S 18 But with thee will I establish my covenant; and thou shalt come into the ark, thou, and thy sons, and thy wife, and thy sons' wives with thee.

F 19 And of every living thing of all flesh, two of every sort shalt thou bring into the ark, to keep them alive with thee; they shall be male and female.

20 Of fowls after their kind, and of cattle after their kind, of every creeping thing of the earth after his kind, two of every sort shall come unto thee, to keep them alive.

21 And take thou unto thee of all [p]food that is eaten, and thou shalt gather it to thee; and it shall be for food for thee, and for them. F. 7. 8, 9.

22 [q]Thus did Nō'ah; [r]according to all that God commanded him, so did he.

L S AND the LORD said unto Nō'ah, Come [a]thou and all thy house into the ark; for thee have I seen righteous [b]before me in this generation. L. verse 23; S. 15. 1.

2 Of every [c]clean beast thou shalt take to thee by [1]sevens, the male and his female: and of beasts that are not clean by two, the male and his female.

3 Of fowls also of the air by sevens, the male and the female; to keep seed alive upon the face of all the earth.

4 For yet seven days, and [d]I will cause it to rain upon the earth forty days and forty nights; and every living substance that I have made will I [2]destroy from off the face of the earth.

6 And Nō'ah was six hundred years old when the flood of waters was upon the earth.

7 And [f]Nō'ah went in, and his sons, and his wife, and his sons' wives with him, into the ark, because of the waters of the flood.

9 There went in two and two unto Nō'ah into the ark, the male and the female, as God had commanded Nō'ah. F. 21. 19.

10 And it came to pass [3]after seven days, that the waters of the flood were upon the earth.

11 In the six hundredth year of Nō'ah's life, in the second month, the seventeenth day of the month, the same day were all the [g]fountains of the great deep broken up, and [h]the [4]windows of heaven were opened.

12 And the rain was upon the earth forty days and forty nights.

EXPLANATION OF MARKINGS THE INDEX OR KEY, directs the reader to the first verse in the Old Testament and the New Testament on a subject, and, at the close of the first verse on that subject, there is a reference to the next verse on the same subject; so, that (though it may be fifty or one hundred pages away), the reader turns forward rapidly verse to verse, in regular order, until he reads everything in the whole Bible on that subject. Thus in specimen page above L stands for the Lord's Love and care for His children, and at the end of verse 8 is given the next reference in the Bible to the same subject (verses 17-18) and by referring to these verses is given the next reference. This same method is followed in the sixteen subjects, which complete the whole theme of Temporal Blessings. This arrangement will enable anyone to conduct a Bible reading on any of the subjects of Temporal Blessing at a moment's notice.

The publishers of these Bibles have drawn upon the world's treasury of Sacred Art for the most appropriate masterpieces with which to embellish the Art Edition of this great work. CHAPTER 2.

NOW when [a]Jē'sus was born in Bĕth'le-hĕm of Jū-dæ'ā in the days of Hĕr'od the king, behold, [1b]wise men from the east came to Jĕ-ru'sā-lĕm,

2 Saying, [2c]Where is he that is born King of the Jews? for we saw his [d]star in the east, and are come to worship him.

3 And when Hĕr'od the king heard it, he was troubled, and all Jĕ-ru'sā-lĕm with him.

4 And gathering together all the [e]chief priests and [f]scribes of the people, [g]he inquired of them where the Chrīst should be born.

5 And [h]they said unto him, In Bĕth'le-hĕm of Jū-dæ'ā: for thus it is written [3]by the prophet,

6 And [i]thou Bĕth'le-hĕm, land of Jū'dah,
Art in no wise least among the princes of Jū'dah:
For out of thee shall come forth a governor,
Which [4]shall be shepherd of my people Ĭs'ra-el.

7 Then Hĕr'od privily called the [1]wise men, and learned of them carefully [4]what time the star appeared.

8 And he sent them to Bĕth'le-hĕm, and said, Go and search out carefully concerning the young child; and when ye have found him, bring me word, that I also may come and worship him.

9 And they, having heard the king, went their way; and lo, the star, which they saw in the east, went before them, till it came and stood over where the young child was.

10 And when they saw the star, they [j]rejoiced with exceeding great joy.

11 And they came into the house and saw the young child with Mā'rў his mother; and they fell down and [k]worshipped him; and opening their treasures they offered unto him gifts, [l]gold and frankincense and [m]myrrh.

12 And being warned of God [n]in a dream that they should not return to Hĕr'od, they departed into their own country another way.

13 ¶Now when they were departed, behold, an angel of the [2]Lord appeareth to Jō'sĕph in a dream, saying, Arise and take the young child and his mother, and flee into Ē'gўpt, and be thou there until I tell thee: for Hĕr'od will seek the young child to destroy him.

14 And he arose and took the young child and his mother by night, and departed into Ē'gўpt;

15 And was there until the death of Hĕr'od: that it might be fulfilled which was spoken by the Lord through the prophet, saying, [o]Out of Ē'gўpt did I call my son.

16 Then Hĕr'od, when he saw that he was mocked of the [1]wise men, was exceeding wroth, and sent forth, and slew all the male children that were in Bĕth'le-hĕm, and in all the borders thereof, from two years old and under, according to the time which he had carefully learned of the [1]wise men.

17 Then was fulfilled that which was spoken [3]by [p]Jĕr-e-mī'ah the prophet, saying,

18 A voice was heard in Rā'mah,
Weeping and great mourning,
Rā'chel weeping for her children;
And she would not be comforted,
because they are not.

19 ¶But when Hĕr'od was dead, behold, an angel of the Lord appeareth in a dream to Jō'sĕph in Ē'gўpt,

20 Saying, Arise and take the young child and his mother, and go into the land of Ĭs'ra-el: for they are dead that sought the young child's life.

21 And he arose and took the young child and his mother, and came into the land of Ĭs'ra-el.

22 But when he heard that Är-chĕ-lā'us was reigning over Jū-dæ'ā in the room of his father Hĕr'od, he was afraid to go thither; and being warned of God in a dream, he withdrew [q]into the parts of Găl'ĭ-lee,

23 And came and dwelt in a city called [r]Năz'a-rĕth: that it might be fulfilled which was spoken [3]by the prophets, that he should be called a [s]Năz'a-rēne.

EXPLANATION

This Testament is marked in red on every subject connected with the theme of Salvation.

A reference to the first verse on each subject is printed after the subject in this index (see opposite page). After every verse or passage marked in this Testament there is a reference to the next verse or passage on the same subject. This will enable anyone to give a Bible reading, at a moment's notice, on any subject marked in the Testament.

The capital letters used in this index, and on the margin of verses, and in front of the references, are to indicate the subjects; thus F stands for Faith, R for Repentance, etc., (see opposite page). The letters on the margin of a verse will enable the person who is familiar with them to tell at a glance the subjects of the verse or passage.

THE campaign of Chancellorsville presents a greater variety of military problems than any other in which an army of the United States has taken part, and none other approaching it in importance has been so imperfectly understood.

"This work by an experienced soldier who later became known as the teacher of military science in the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, and as the author of works on campaigns in Europe and America, is a notable contribution to strategic literature. We think that no campaign of our civil war has been more accurately, elaborately or ably described than is Chancellorsville in these pages, and soldiers in every land will thank the author for a technical study so satisfactory. . . . . The presentation is always clear, and the maps numerous and careful. . . . . Altogether, Major Bigelow's work is masterly. We know of no more satisfactory scientific treatment of a military topic by any American writer."—The Nation.

New Volume in "American Catalog" Series

The American Catalog for 1908-10, covering in one alphabet American book production by author, title, subject and series for those three years, is now ready for delivery. It forms a complete reference dictionary of American publications for the period covered, cumulating in one alphabet, and therefore superseding, the Annual American Catalog for 1908 and 1909, and the Annual Summary Number of THE PUBLISHERS' WEEKLY covering 1910.

The rapid growth of book production during the past three years is reflected by the size of the volume, over 1500 pages, as against 1164 pages for the previous triennial American Catalog, 1905-07. The Directory of Publishers runs to about 80 pages.

Bound in half morocco, uniform with preceding volumes, price $7.50.

The edition is strictly a limited one, printed from type, which has already been distributed. Those desiring copies will do well, therefore, to advise us as soon as possible. The American Catalog, 1876 to date, is the American book trade bibliographical record, and unbroken sets of it are of increasing importance and value.

We have still on hand a very few copies of the American Catalog for 1900-04, also 1905-07, which we can supply at $7.50 each. These, with the present volume, form an Index to practically all the "books in print."
